HEART WITH HOLE ON WRONG SIDE TOO

LONDON (AP)—Surgeons reported today a successful operation on a 13-year-old girl whose heart not only had a hole in it but was on the wrong side of her chest.

A communique from London's Hammersmith Hospital said Pamela Weller was feeling fine after surgery to stitch up the hole. During the operation her heart was stopped for 56 minutes while her circulation was maintained artificially.

The communique also said that not only is Pamela's heart on the right side, instead of the left, but her liver and stomach are in the wrong place, too.

Mr. K. May Find Eagle Can Claw

Nikita Khrushchev has made it clear he is anxious to get a first hand look at the United States. In this last of a series back-grounding Khrushchev's visit, Associated Press news analyst William L. Ryan tells of the distorted opinion the Kremlin boss has of the American way of life.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Nikita Khrushchev wants to get a close look at the American eagle. Perhaps he wants to know how long it will be before—by his reckoning—he can step on the eagle's tail.

The Soviet premier made this ambition plain long after he began, about two years ago, to hint his way into an invitation to visit the United States. Communism's star travelling salesman wants an idea of just what the resistance might be to his line in a hemisphere which has been a mystery to him all his life.

At a reception last spring, Khrushchev, surrounded by guest to guests, exploded verbal fireworks with each step. The round, 220-pound Russian bore down on the American ambassador, Llewellyn Thompson, jabbing a stubby finger into Thompson's chest, he gave him a pithy lecture.

"There are some ambassadors here," said the grinning five-foot-five Communist boss, "who would like to spit on Communism. But don't let's see who can spit the farthest, like camels in a cage. Let's compete. We have to maintain minimum sanitary conditions. When we win this competition, we'll re-educate you."

TOKYO (AP)—Asian Communists are talking peace through "friendly negotiations" on two fronts—the India-China border and in Laos, but are giving no indication of a readiness to make concessions.

Red China's parliamentary standing committee was called suddenly into session today to discuss the growing dispute with India along the Tibetan border.

Premier Chou En-lai told the committee that Sino-Indian border question should be settled peacefully and not by force.

Chou said the status quo should be maintained and not altered by force or unilateral action. He added that some disputes could be solved locally, at least temporarily, to preserve Sino-Indian friendship.

This came after the Laotian rebels announced Wednesday that they were ready to negotiate "if the Royal Laotian Government" still desires a peaceful settlement.

A United Nations fact-finding mission is leaving New York for Laos Saturday night in answer to an appeal for help.

There was speculation here that the Communist peace gestures might be at the urging of Moscow to create a more relaxed international atmosphere for Premier Khrushchev's trip to the United States next Tuesday for talks with President Eisenhower.

Meanwhile India's Prime Minister Nehru told a press conference in New Delhi today that he doesn't think there is any likelihood of the border troubles leading to a war.

"I don't believe there has been any development which could lead to a conflict—even a small one," he said.

Miss Canada's Mounties 'Too Hot'

OTTAWA (CP)—The two members of the RCMP accompanying Miss Canada at the Atlantic City beauty pageant will remain to the end of the contest Saturday night, a spokesman for the force said today.

But it was expected that this would be the first and last time the RCMP steps into the international whirl of beauty queens.

A corporal and constable were assigned by the RCMP to act as bodyguards for Canada's entry in the Miss America contest, Rosemary Keenan of Fredericton. They made a big impression dressed in their red tunics, riding boots and stetsons.

But in some parts of the country, there's been criticism of the force for sending them. Commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac said in a television interview in Toronto Thursday night he accepted responsibility for the decision to send the mounties, but had not anticipated there would be much publicity in Canada about it.

The mounties, Cpl. J. H. Turcotte, 42, and Constable Merle O. Adamson, 27, went to Atlantic City mounted on the seats of a trusty convertible.

They marched in the pageant parade, watched the

Sir Beverley Baxter, Toronto-born Conservative member of Parliament, received the donation in the mail this morning and handed it to Conservative party chairman Lord Hailsham.

Baxter said Hailsham received it with "modified reluctance."

The MP declined to identify the donor. He described him as a wealthy Canadian who greatly admires the British way of life.

Citizens File Suit To Block Mr. K. Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A group of U.S. citizens filed suit in federal court here today to block the U.S. visit of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The suit listed the names of 22 American citizens whom it charged, Khrushchev caused to be murdered or illegally imprisoned.

Retired Army Capt. Eugene R. Guild of Glenwood Springs, Colo., signed the suit, which was mailed to the court here in a letter on the stationery of the "fighting homefolks of fighting men."

The prime minister did not deny reports that plans were being made for a civil service investigation, similar to a commission headed by former president Herbert Hoover into U.S. government operations, when asked about it as he entered an afternoon cabinet session.

However, he drew attention to the Hoover Commission inquiry, adding that "it was something that certainly brought about considerable savings and gave a lead in the practice of economy without any deterioration of effectiveness."

He noted that the Hoover Commission operated by setting up teams to report on the various departments.

REQUIRE STUDY

Although the prime minister declined to state specifically that the government will follow this course of action, he said "there is considerable interest in the establishment of such a commission."

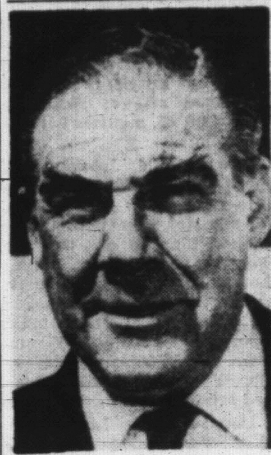

He was asked whether this would mean that civil service salaries would be frozen during the course of such an inquiry, but declined to commit himself other than to say he did not think such action occurred in the U.S.

Decision to go ahead with the inquiry, mooted for some time, is reported to have been made by the cabinet within the last 10 days.

The decision comes at a time when civil service associations are strongly pressing the government for salary increases.

The civil service commission's pay research bureau reported to the government last fall that salaries in government service generally are below those paid for comparable work in industry.

Rescue Squad Too Late Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor Paul Douglas died today of a heart seizure at his home. His actress wife, Jan Sterling, was at his side.

Douglas, 52, an outspoken veteran of more than 20 movies and scores of television dramas, had no previous record of heart disease, according to Dr. Lee Siegel.

Firemen were called to Douglas' Hollywood Hills home at 8:30 a.m., but arrived too late to apply emergency measures.

Miss Sterling said her husband collapsed shortly after arising from bed, complaining of pains in his chest.

"It's better this way," the blonde star sobbed. "He would not have wanted to linger long in a sick bed."

She said Douglas had requested the corner of his eyes be given to the Eye Foundation, and that other parts of his body should be used for medical research.

How U.S. Treats Canada 'World Test' Says Editor

TWIN ISLES, B.C. (CP)—United States treatment of Canada will have a profound effect on how the free world views American actions in the future, Canadian author-editor Bruce Hutchison said today.

"Canada has always been and still is the primary test of United States morals and conscience," Mr. Hutchison, editor of the Victoria Daily Times, told an international conference here.

"Apart from morals altogether, the United States would undermine and probably destroy its whole position of leadership throughout the world if it attempted the coercion of Canada. If it seemed to mistreat such a neighbor, no overseas nation would ever trust it again."

Twenty-two leading businessmen, politicians, industrialists and educationists are attending a two-country meeting at a lodge here under the sponsorship of G. Max Bell, president of F. P. Publications Limited and a leading figure in the Alberta oil industry.

The program opened today on a series of panel discussions and papers on Canadian-U.S. relations. Scheduled to speak later was Liberal leader Pearson.

Quebec Premier Sworn In

QUEBEC (CP)—Hon. Paul Sauve today was sworn in as premier of Quebec after choosing a 20-member cabinet, largely unchanged from that which served under the late Premier Maurice Duplessis.

Maurice Bellemare, 47, Union Nationale member for Champlain, was added to the cabinet as a minister without portfolio. Mr. Bellemare has been chief party whip.

Hon. Antoine Rivard, 60, was given the attorney-general's portfolio which Mr. Duplessis had held personally during his long term of office.

Premier Sauve also retained for the time being the youth and welfare portfolio which he held before Mr. Duplessis' death.

POST-MAY GO

There were indications that the post of solicitor-general which Mr. Rivard held in addition to the transport department portfolio would disappear in the new cabinet.

Premier Sauve presented the list of cabinet ministers to Lieutenant-Governor Onesime Gagnon. Soon after he and members of the cabinet took the oath of allegiance and the oath of secrecy.

Mr. Sauve, at 52 the senior member of the Quebec legislature in years of service, was named premier Thursday night a few hours after Mr. Duplessis had been buried in his native Trois Rivieres. (See list of cabinet ministers on page 2.)

Such pronouncements about his own ideas of peaceful co-existence.

Victoria district IWA members today voted 92.5 per cent in favor of settling the coast lumber strike according to the Deutsch formula.

At Duncan, Local 1-80 with sub-locals at nine other Island centres, reported 80 per cent voted to go back to work.

It was the timber operators' move at press time—but no statement was forthcoming from Forest Industrial Relations at Vancouver, bargaining agency for the industry.

Both sides in the dispute which had idled 26,600 IWA members for 67 days have studied the recommendations of Dr. John Deutsch, government-appointed mediator.

An overwhelming majority of strikers now have agreed to accept his recommendation of a 20-cent wage increase over two years.

FOOD SHIPPED

Some operators are so confident that the F.I.R. group will also accede to the Deutsch recommendations that food was shipped to some northern logging camps.

It was hoped skeleton crews could begin work Monday and that Wednesday would see the industry humming once more.

Secret ballots cast in Vancouver resulted in a 60.4 per cent vote to accept the Deutsch report and in New Westminster the vote was 54 per cent in favor. Both votes were cast despite opposition by some local officials to "giving in."

The Island vote was counted just before noon today.

Officials who were present as loggers and mill workers filed into union headquarters to vote said the outcome was never in doubt.

TWO-THIRDS

At Victoria, two-thirds of the district membership cast votes, a total of 897 ballots, according to local president Jack Mackenzie.

Local 1-80 secretary Ed Linder at Duncan said all Island sublocals had similar large turnouts for the voting at Youbou, Lake Cowichan, Ladysmith, Caycuse Beach, Duncan, Chemainus, Harris Creek and Nanaimo.

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — Just who is the real police chief of Jersey City?

Is it Michael Cusack, who claims he's 64 and not 65 and who is maintaining an office on the top floor of police headquarters?

Or is it Austin Conley, who is holding forth in the cellar and who was told this week by the public safety director that he was in full command?

William V. McLaughlin, the public safety director, says Cusack is 65 and therefore subject to automatic retirement on Dec. 31. McLaughlin also says that Cusack is on vacation.

Cusack says he's a year younger and not on vacation. Conley, meanwhile, set himself up in the cellar after McLaughlin told him:

"You are in full command. I have designated you acting chief of police. All mail and any data that shall be sent to the office of the chief of police shall be forwarded to you."

Despite this pronouncement, Cusack opened the mail Thursday.

More Misprint Stamps Found

WINNIPEG (CP) — Fifty more misprinted stamps were discovered today by workers checking supplies in the Winnipeg post office for such freaks.

The misprints first were discovered by a woman who bought 30 of the stamps last month. A stamp dealer said the syndicate she formed had been offered $1,000 for one of the stamps and turned the bid down.

The second complete sheet of the five-cent Seaway stamps with the central portion printed upside down was found as workers checked about 200 bundles, each with 100 sheets of 50 stamps each.

Post office officials in Victoria said they had received no information on the freak stamps.

Usually in such cases, post office workers are asked to watch for the stamps and they are withdrawn for sale purposes.

KHRUSHCHEV WHERE HE'LL GO FOR FIRST 9 DAYS

existence Khrushchev often makes in the best of high humor. In such a mood, either at home or on his far-flung travels selling world Communism, he is likely to cut up gaily, like a country boy on his first night on the town.

And he is just as likely to turn suddenly stormy and deliver a vituperative lecture to all present.

DEMOCRACY A SHAM

To Khrushchev, American talk of individual freedom is nonsense. Publicly and frequently he has ridiculed Western democracy as a sham.

"Freedom is only for monopoly capitalists," thundered the Red leader on one occasion. "The workers are plundered. The capitalists shear them like sheep. The Western press and radio serve only the monopolies. They call themselves the Free World, but we wouldn't be tempted back if they offered it to us on a platter."

Khrushchev has had no experience with Americans on their home grounds, but he has had some with the British and has come off second best. That was in 1956, in the second year of the celebrated B-K tours of Khrushchev and his one-time shadow, former premier Niko-lai Bulganin.

On that trip Khrushchev seemed bewildered, particularly by the ceremonial democracy of the House of Commons. He was out-finessed by cool, suave British politicians who enraged him: so much he accused them of "khamstvo—or priggishness. And he found little solace among the British people.

TOUGH TALK

"Never shake your fist at a Russian," Khrushchev told members of a crowd which had made jeering gestures.

And to the British political leaders, he thundered: "You may call me a pot, but don't put me on the stove."

Hurt, Khrushchev wondered why his British audience laughed when he remarked: "As the old Russian proverb goes, Moscow wasn't built in a day."

Apparently Khrushchev has some tender spots beneath his tough hide, and can be insulted rather easily, although he himself is a fast man with a gratuitous insult.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Schedule for the first nine days of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's 13-day visit to the United States:

Sept. 15 — Arrives at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington to be met by President Eisenhower and stay at his guest house, Blair House.

Sept. 16 — Visits agriculture department experimental station at Beltsville, Md., then returns to Washington.

Sept. 17 — Arrives in New York to stay at Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Sept. 18 — Visits Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N.Y., then returns to address the United Nations General Assembly.

Sept. 19 — Flies to Los Angeles for visit to Hollywood.

Sept. 20 — Train trip to San Francisco for two-day stay.

Sept. 22 — Flies to Des Moines, Iowa for two-day stay including visit to Coon Rapids farm.

The program for the visit to Pittsburgh and the return to Washington for the period September 24-27 will be announced later, the White House said.

Who needs a new City Hall?
AND THE ROOF KEPT ON LEAKING

New City Hall Ruled Out—Drip...Drip...Drip

By JOHN MIKA

City council Thursday ruled out a new city hall for the present.

Ironically, while the aldermen made a decision that the old building could last a little longer, two buckets on the floor below council chamber were slowly filling with drops of last week's rainfall, still seeping through the ceiling of the building's largest office area.

Also a framework of wood and metal bolsters the roof above, just to be sure the tower does not cave in.

In a one-two sequence, council rejected the lease-purchase offer of Dominion Construction Company, which planned a nine-story, $1,800,000 city hall at Burdett and Blanshard, and empowered Mayor Percy Scurrell to appoint a special committee to study the need for a new building.

CAN'T AFFORD

Mayor Scurrell, supported by a majority of aldermen, said he had come to the conclusion Victoria could not afford a new city hall at the present time because of provincial government orders to raise school assessments, which this year had increased taxes, and because of high interest rates in the money market.

"But I do feel we should keep this a live issue and consider it again when the money market improves," he said. "I think we all agree that we are going to need a new city hall sometime in the future."

A study by city comptroller Dennis Young had shown it would be cheaper for the city to build a new city hall, "when and if we build one," than adopt the lease-purchase proposal. Mayor Scurrell also said he was sure the city would have $300,000 in its land sales fund within a year, which could be used as a down payment.

WHEN?

"Possibly this is not the proper time to build, but when is the proper time?" asked Ald. Arthur Dowell. "We've been hearing that for years."

"It is just wishful thinking to believe interest rates are going to go down. Even if they do, building costs are going to go up and what you save in interest charges will be lost in building costs."

He suggested a committee study to prevent the subject from "being pigeon-holed indefinitely."

DILAPIDATED

Ald. Dowell said the most important result from a new city hall would be the "revitalization of the downtown area. There has been nothing new in the centre for years and years and it's getting pretty dilapidated."

"If you don't do something to revitalize the downtown area, business will move out of the city and it will be too bad for the homeowner then."

HIGH PRICE FOR SUMMIT CALLED IN TV ADDRESS

It'll Have To Be Pretty Good, Ike Tells Mr. K.

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower has given firm assurance that there will be no appeasement, no "auction block" bargaining with Premier Khrushchev during the Russian's 13-day United States tour.

In effect, he told a national radio and television audience Thursday night, if Khrushchev wants a summit conference he'll have to come up with some pretty good proposals which the Western powers can consider.

In addition, Khrushchev will have to acknowledge and respect Western rights in West Berlin so that the freedom of West Berliners may be secured. This may be tough for Khrushchev to swallow, as he has virtually told the Western powers to get out of Berlin.

SUMMIT PRICE

Aside from the security of Berlin, Eisenhower's price for a summit meeting includes: Some clear Soviet indication, no matter how given, that serious negotiations will bring about real promise of reducing the causes of world tensions.

If all this is done, then the West is ready to negotiate practically anything, but more particularly disarmament, the problems of a divided Germany and greater exchange of ideas and visits between East and West.

Eisenhower described the forthcoming talks as exploratory efforts to find ways of easing world tensions, but there would be no "definitive negotiation."

"Conversations with chairman Khrushchev will not include any negotiations concerning subjects that directly relate to the interest of our allies or to any other part of the Free World."

The invitation to Khrushchev and his family was designed to show him how people live in freedom and to impress on him western basic convictions "on major issues of the day, including West Berlin."

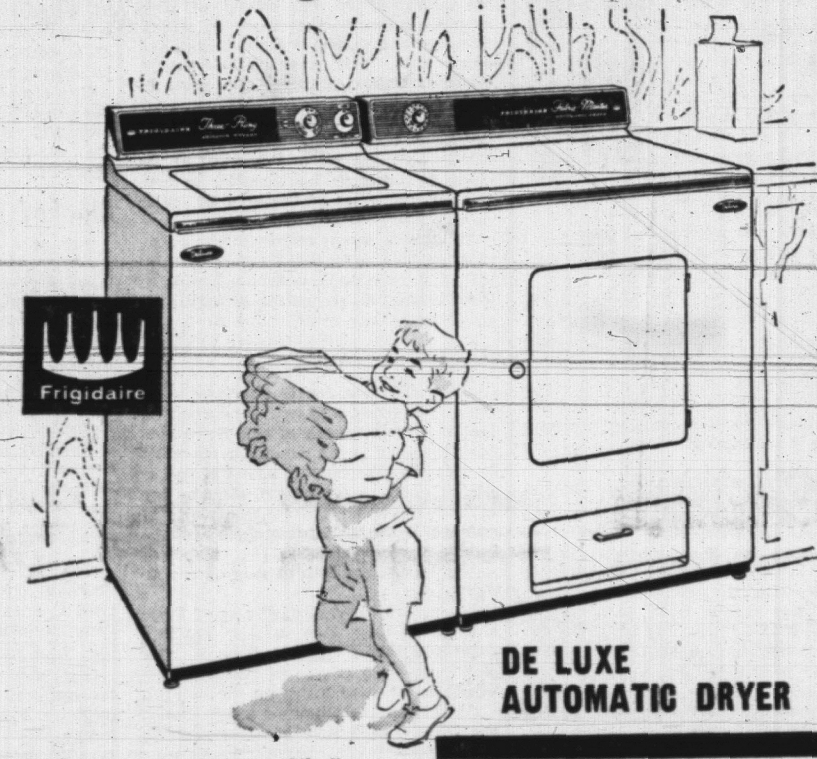

Eisenhower urged that the Khrushchev family be treated with traditional dignity and offered a prayer that Khrushchev might be able to absorb the significance of human liberty and dignity.

"If the Khrushchev visit accomplished nothing else than to make him appreciate the spirit and conscience of liberty, while... then indeed the venture would be a thousand-fold worth while."

Nehru and the Juggernaut

IN A MOVE THAT HAS BECOME routine with those who plan aggression, Red China now accuses India of invading Chinese territory and creating military disturbances on China's border.

This is the second step. The first was to perpetrate against India what China now accuses the Indians of doing. This squares the situation for home consumption, in which China can appear as the victim of Indian aggression and so be justified in taking steps to protect itself.

For this accusation to be made against India, led by a man who is a dedicated believer in the pacifist precepts of the late Mahatma Gandhi, is as ridiculous as it is tragic. Red China's Premier Chou En-lai offers to talk over the problem with Prime Minister Nehru. Obviously the talks will be on a basis determined by Peking; namely, a denial of the so-called McMahon line, which has been tacitly accepted as the eastern section of the border between China and India since it was drawn prior to the First World War.

And it would be unwise to believe that these developments have no connection with Mr. Nehru's recent pressure on India's Communists, and the wild Communist-inspired rioting which has shaken Calcutta.

The stage thus set now has as a backdrop the invitation of Moscow to the contestants to settle the dispute "in the interests of both countries." Russia may find itself in a delicate position in this regard. The USSR has long courted "neutral" India, and to side with Red China in the present instance would destroy all that has been accomplished along this line, including the goodwill accruing from Soviet economic aid to India.

On the other hand, to favor the Indian cause would constitute an open breach between the two Communist giants — a breach which many Western observers see as inevitable.

evitable some day but which both nations obviously would wish to postpone for as long as possible.

Mr. Nehru's position is also uncomfortable. He has been the leading proponent of the soft and co-operative approach to Communist powers. He saw this as the correct policy for all non-Communist countries to adopt, regardless of the fact that becoming too cozy with the Russian bear often demonstrably resulted in being hugged to death. He no doubt saw himself, too, as the great balancing force between the two ideological worlds, and in this role he could render a valuable service to the cause of global peace.

Now, only weeks after offering asylum to Tibetan victims of Communist China's aggression, Mr. Nehru finds himself the object of military attacks and provocative charges. He may remember that this is the sort of thing the much-criticized Baghdad Pact was expressly designed to counter through mutual help.

Shortly he may meet Communism face to face, not as an applauded guest in Moscow or as host to a publicly-acclaimed Soviet visitor, but as a negotiator trying to cope with the intractability and intransigence of Communist negotiations.

At such a conference he will not find the calm philosopher's approach to truth and perfection, but the ruthless materialistic dialectic of men trained to get what they want or state the opposition. Will Mr. Nehru's idealism transcend this challenge? Will he accept with passivity or oppose with vigor? Will he cast himself before the Communist juggernaut or attempt to stop it? Will he recognize that one step backward may prove to be only the first of many?

On Mr. Nehru's answer may depend the future of India, and indeed of the whole world. That is why a little border skirmish in an almost completely isolated part of the earth may have very far-reaching effects.

Trees Not Yet the Problem

THE FINANCIAL POST REPORTS that farmers of the Po Valley in northern Italy are growing a crop of pulpwood in 12 years — five times faster than it can be done in most of Canada.

This is quicker cropping than is reported from the United States southern pine region — which also outpaces Canada in tree growth for pulp purposes.

The Post suggests that the Po Valley experiment may lead Canada to investigate the use of a species of Lombardy poplar — a high quality hybrid developed in Italy. And that, the paper adds, could lead to something of a revolution in the Canadian industry, as well as to the establishment of a new crop, with attendant economic gains for the farmer.

This, of course, could be a development of the future and industry in this province is experimenting with different types of trees.

At the moment, however, in British Columbia the problem is not an adequate supply for pulp. Industrial leaders point out that we still have a great amount of wood and that sustained yield should guarantee the supply, even though the growing rate is slower.

One of the difficulties here is the relatively high cost of harvest. Stands are frequently some distance from conversion plants. Access roads are costly to build. Transportation is expensive.

But while such issues will remain before British Columbia's forest industries, now turning more and more to a pulp economy, they probably represent a much less serious problem than markets.

Pulp and paper mills have been running below capacity. Output and output ability exceed demand.

How long this condition will last is a matter of keen interest to the industry, fully aware of the fact that many countries are now coming into the pulp production field and are becoming less and less dependent on Canada for their needs.

The continuing question for the industry at this time is not how to acquire more raw material. It is how to lay the product down on the world market at a price which will find ready customers.

Rightly or wrongly the Canadian industry is inclined to believe that it has the better mousetrap when it comes to wood products. But even the superior mousetrap won't attract crowds to its manufacturer's door if the customer can get a usable substitute for a much lower price.

The 'Glory' of Being White

THE CANADIAN BROADCASTING Corporation, which has had more than its share of trouble in recent months, is under attack again for the spontaneous combustion of a white-supremacy fanatic on one of its shows.

Stepping out of his role in the presentation, according to the CBC explanation, the individual launched into a tirade against Negroes. While the moderator tried to switch him from his subject the guest continued his ranting.

The performance has drawn indignant criticism from various parts of Canada.

The white supremacy spokesman has served the cause he opposes well. He has demonstrated the type of mentality that produces much of the nonsense that is rooted only skin deep. The fact that his outburst brought such quick rejoinder from reasonable people furnishes the only comment that is necessary.

It is more serious to read the report from St. Catharines telling of white pressure against the landlady who rented premises to a Negro family in a low income district.

People who misappropriate time on the radio to reveal their own racial prejudices also reveal their own characters. They invite the contempt bestowed upon them.

When the attack against a family, based on the color of its skin, comes in the form of unsigned letters, as it did in St. Catharines, something speaky is injected into the issue.

The proprietor of a restaurant in the locality, threatened by a boycott because his landlady permitted the Negro family to live in adjacent premises, has said in some bewilderment: "I didn't think this could happen—not in this country."

Evidently it can and does—to the shame of Canadians who recognize human beings as human beings, no matter what their pigmentation.

ARMS TALKS GET FULL UN BACKING

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—With a few sour notes, all 82 United Nations members have joined in a chorus of approval of a Big Four agreement for new 10-power disarmament talks outside the UN.

The 82-member disarmament commission late Thursday gave general consent to a resolution on the talks which will start at Geneva early next year.

The vote unexpectedly brought to a close a meeting of the commission which had been expected to continue until Monday with many small countries criticizing the new machinery.

Canada, which will be a member of the new group, was among the supporting powers. Ambassador Charles Ritchie considered the unanimous vote here a hopeful sign.

PEACE RIVER POWER 'FACTOR' IN RAILWAY

EDMONTON (CP)—A proposed hydro development in northern British Columbia should be taken into account in planning a route for a railway to the Northwest Territories, the Manning Royal Commission was told Thursday.

John S. Shakespeare of Vancouver, counsel for Peace River Power Development Company Limited, said his client "doesn't want to pull for one route or the other."

However, he said the commission could draw its own conclusions about potential advantages to having the rail route relatively close to the big hydro development. This would favor the north-western Alberta route through Grimshaw.

Big B.C. Campaign For West Route

Many business organizations will support the British Columbia government next week in efforts to obtain a western route for a proposed new railway to Pine Point on Great Slave Lake, Trade Minister Robert Bonner said today.

Vancouver Board of Trade, British Columbia-Yukon Chamber of Mines and Peace River Development Company each are submitting briefs, to the Manning Commission at Edmonton. Next week Mr. Bonner will present a brief on behalf of the British Columbia government.

North Vancouver Board of Trade and the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce also will urge a western route. Dawson Creek Chamber of Commerce and Fort St. John Chamber made similar representations when the commission held hearings at Peace River, Alberta, earlier this week.

The commission, headed by Mr. Justice H. E. Manning, of Edmonton, was set up by the federal government to recommend whether the new railway should be routed northeast or northwest of Edmonton into the Northwest Territories from Alberta. The line would be a joint CPR-CNR undertaking.

Edmonton interests favor a route along the eastern border of Alberta from Waterways, located northeast of Edmonton. Premier Bennett and the British Columbia interested groups favor a route north from Grimshaw, located northwest of Edmonton, which would permit an easy connection eventually with the Pacific Great Eastern Railway where it joins with the Northwest coast line.

Coach for Teepees

Is It Too Big a Bargain?

A FRIEND of mine has dropped me a note discussing the affairs of the Victoria YMCA. He knows that we at the Y are running in the red this year and appreciates the fact that the deficit stems from our desire to keep fees as low as possible for the young boys in our membership.

He understands, also, that this policy results in a financial loss on each junior we enroll and that we have not, at present, sufficient seniors, who more than pay their own way, to offset this loss.

This year we have had the largest junior membership in our history. That, it seems to me, is pretty fair evidence of the success of our program. A very large number of people are appreciating our efforts to provide opportunities for youngsters to develop in spirit, mind and body and are impressed by the calibre of our instructors.

At the same time the success is embarrassing. We long ago learned the fallacy of the small merchant who explained that he lost a little on each sale, but counted on volume to make it up.

In his note, my acquaintance pin-pointed one aspect of our trouble.

"One of my friends," he writes, "had the pleasure of sending his young son to the Y Camp at Glanz Lake. The son and father were most enthusiastic about the quality of the camp, the direction given, and the fun enjoyed by the youngster and all the rest. At the same time he was equally surprised at the very modest cost for the youngster."

He then adds the pertinent comment that perhaps the Y is showing too great a tendency "to attempt to provide too much for too little for the sake of the few that you genuinely want to help, which permits the majority to have too big a bargain."

On the basis of straight business principles, it's difficult to reply to that argument. It is difficult in spite of the fact that other parents in very modest circumstances have said that they were unable to send boys to the Y camp because they just could not afford it. We've tried to provide for the latter through sponsorships. About 10 per cent of the campers went as someone's guest this year and at no cost to themselves.

The boys were carefully chosen after inquiry because we at the Y don't want to be played for suckers any more than other people.

Sponsorship isn't limited to the camp. When a youngster who would definitely benefit from Y service quite obviously cannot meet fees, we try, with the help of our friends, to make arrangements for him. That's part of the service we owe a community which has supported us for years and now supplements our income through the Community Chest.

Unfortunately the Chest can't give us what we need at present. It hasn't enough money. And because we're members of the Chest, we can't make independent appeals for funds on the basis of an extra financial campaign.

But we do feel that a very large number of Victorians are highly favorable to the work the Y does. They believe, among other things, that it is better and infinitely cheaper to provide interests and activities for healthy, normal young people to help keep them healthy and normal than it is to spend much more trying to reclaim those who have fallen from mental, spiritual or physical health.

Not that we pose as the one and only outfit that can cure delinquency. No single organization or program can be 100 per cent effective. But we think—and we have cases, about which we don't talk, to support our opinion—that the Y does keep the sapling growing straight and thereby avoids distortion in the adult tree.

That's why we're inviting a substantial number of citizens who have supported us in the past or been interested in Y work to become sustaining members. If they can't give the time to the actual work entailed, they can provide assistance in a very tangible way.

And we hope our invitation is broadly enough accepted to help us now.

We'd be losing an essential element in YMCA philosophy if we had to raise fees to the point where the association appeared to become a club for the youngsters of rich families only.

UN CORRESPONDENCE

By STANLEY BURKE

The Test of Tibet

NEW YORK—Concern is being expressed by UN diplomats over the Indian attitude toward Tibet. Many diplomats believe that the Tibetan case should be formally debated and they feel that India is the logical nation to inscribe the item on the agenda of the General Assembly.

Prime Minister Nehru, however, has indicated that his country will take no action.

A number of arguments are raised by Indians and other diplomats supporting this no-action policy. For one thing the independence of Tibet is questionable. India, for example, has explicitly stated that she recognizes Tibet as part of China.

Another argument for no-action is that fact that it probably wouldn't be effective. Communist countries have shown little apparent concern in the past over UN resolutions and presumably wouldn't be over Tibet, especially since the UN members are unlikely to go to war over Tibet as they did over Korea. Critics say that a debate on Tibet would be "another Hungary."

Then there is the fact that China is not a UN member. As one diplomat said a Tibetan debate would be a "court prosecution with no prisoner in the dock."

(This latter argument, by the way, is regarded by many as an indictment of American policy over admission of China to the UN. Since China was an aggressor, she was not admitted to the organization. Now, since she's not a member, the UN is said to be powerless to act to curb further Chinese aggression.)

And again it is said that at a time when Mr. Khrushchev is visiting the United States, and the UN, there should be no unpleasantness.

But in spite of all these arguments there is uneasiness and unhappiness felt by many people at the UN. Comparisons are drawn, for example, with the situation 20 years ago just before the outbreak of the Second World War.

It's recalled that in the halls of the League of Nations there was fear of offending the dictators and it's recalled that Emperor Haile Selassie's appeal for aid to Ethiopia was denied, a denial which many believe destroyed the League.

It might be added that there is speculation on the possibility of the Dalai Lama coming to the UN to make an appeal for Tibet. It would be a dramatic, thought-provoking parallel to the Haile Selassie appearance coming one generation and one international organization later.

A number of Western nations are known to have considered action but apparently decided that only an Asian nation could take effective action. Mr. Casey, the Australian Foreign Minister, made a statement indicating that action should come from India.

Ireland is known to feel keenly about Tibet, finding a parallel to her own experience. She apparently intends no action, however, presumably for the same reason as Australia and others.

Among Western delegations it is said that Western action would be regarded by Asians as interference in Asian affairs and an attempt to score cold war propaganda points.

HOME GARDEN

By JACK BEASTALL

Dig Potatoes on Sunny Day

A potato tuber has quite a lot of soft flesh which will hold warmth or cold. It also contains a high percentage of moisture.

When the tubers are lifted from the soil and exposed to the air they become damp, because the difference in temperature between soil and air causes moisture to form on the skin surface.

This condensation, or sweating, continues for quite a while, and if the tubers are sacked as fast as they are dug, enough moisture will collect on the surfaces to cause rotting.

SUNNY DAY RULE

An old gardening rule is that potatoes should always be dug on a sunny day when a brisk breeze is blowing, and it is one rule which is as sound today as when it was first stated.

A sunny day implies that the air will be comparatively dry and able to absorb a lot of moisture. The breeze is reckoned to keep the air moving over the freshly dug tubers to carry off the moisture as fast as it forms. The tubers should be turned occasionally while lying on the soil, and on an average September day they may be exposed to sunlight for about two hours without being harmed. The more breeze, the less exposure needed.

ON SACKS

Gathering should start well in advance of the afternoon temperature drop and it is wise to spread the tubers on sacks in a shed or basement out of direct sunlight and strong daylight.

Before sacking for storage, remove all damaged and diseased tubers and separate the large mature tubers for storage until after Christmas.

Oil Firm Offers Mortgages

VANCOUVER (CP)—President J. R. White of Imperial Oil in Canada said Wednesday night the firm is offering second mortgages of up to $1,200 at advantageous rates to owners of new homes in British Columbia who undertake to use the company's furnace oil. "Natural gas is providing strong competition for our product and our aim is to see that all installations are not taken over by natural gas," Mr. White said in an interview. The oil company is offering the second mortgages at the same rate as that of the applicant's first mortgage, but not less than 6 per cent. Prevailing first mortgage rates in Vancouver now are between 6 1/2 and 7 1/4 per cent. "It is a normal competitive move," Mr. White said. "We have been doing the same thing for some time in Quebec."

He said natural gas has not made serious inroads on the firm's market now but it wanted to hold its share.

CRISIS DRAWS CLOSE

Time Runs Out In Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The effects of the United States steel strike, slowly building up over the last 50 days, appear headed for a crisis within the next two to four weeks.

Hefty inventories accumulated during a record six-month production prior to the strike are becoming unbalanced. Many small firms have quietly halted production.

An Associated Press survey shows layoffs in industries allied to steel have reached 175,000. Late reports may push the unemployment figures even higher.

Even as the picture grows dark, many of the big manufacturers who depend on steel for raw material report they have not yet felt the sting of the strike. But they add quickly that time is running out.

While the economic squeeze grows tighter, negotiators for the basic steel industry and nearly 500,000 members of the striking United Steelworkers show no sign of coming close to an agreement.

Steel firms report heavy ordering for the fourth quarter already. An 80-day production resumption would start a wild scramble to build up sagging inventories and result in long waits for many customers.

A poll by National Association of Purchasing Agents of big firms in the manufacturing field was summed up by saying:

"The steel strike hasn't hurt business yet, but if it isn't settled in 30 days manufacturing companies may have to cut back sharply."

An Associated Press survey shows that most of the unemployment resulting from the steel strike so far has occurred in or near the big steel-producing centres.

In most steel areas, utility firms and merchants are extending credit to many of the strikers. In some areas stores are advertising that striking workers can buy now and make the first payment 30 days after the strike ends.

TRADE CHIEF IN DENMARK

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Gordon Churchill, Canadian minister of trade and commerce, arrived here today to discuss an expansion of Canadian-Danish trade.

Arriving by air from Norway, Churchill was received at Kastrup Airport by Kjeld Philip, Denmark's minister of trade, and the Canadian charge d'affaires, Dr. C. F. Wilson.

Sports Wear Firm Will Operate Factory in B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A new women's sports wear manufacturing company that expects to do $2,000,000 worth of business annually within three or four years will begin production here next month.

Koret of California (Canada) Ltd., owned jointly by Vancouver and United States interests, expects to produce about $400,000 worth of products in the first year of operation.

Sponsors of the company are Koret of California, which has branches in the U.S., Britain, and South Africa, and Aljean Sports Wear of Vancouver.

Al Guskin, president of Aljean, is head of the new company.

U.S. Banks Boost Interest Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eight federal reserve banks since last week when the commercial banks raised their basic interest rates to 5 per cent.

The eight reserve banks affected by the board's order are those in New York, Cleveland, Richmond, Chicago, St. Louis, Dallas, San Francisco and Kansas City. The other four federal reserve banks were expected to follow suit.

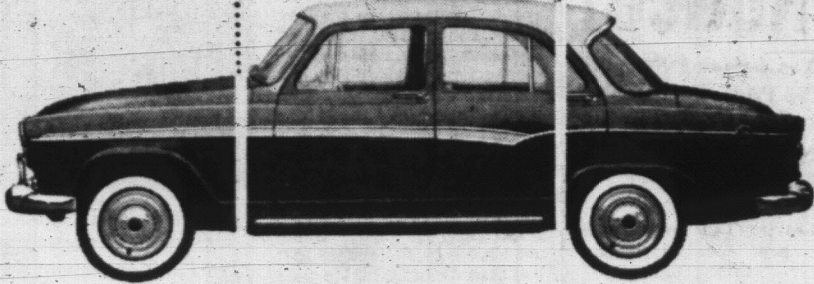

The last time the rate was as high as 4 per cent was in 1932. Prior to that, it was 6 per cent in 1929 and 7 per cent in 1920-21.

THREE DAYS ADRIFT

Flashlight SOS Saves 2 in Lake

DETROIT (AP) — A 60-year-old Ohio steel worker and his wife, "frightened but thankful," were taken ashore here Thursday night from a Canadian freighter which had rescued them after three harrowing days afloat in a small open boat on Lake Erie.

Paul Laughlin of West

Youngstown and his bride of five months, Edith, 48, were taken off the Canadian freighter D. C. Everest by a Coast Guard launch in the Detroit River.

Although appearing tired and wearing clothing donated by the freighter's crew, Laughlin and his wife were relaxed and none the worse for the ordeal.

"But it was a Godsend that ship saw us, or we wouldn't have been here," Laughlin said. They were rescued about 27 miles out in the lake.

The couple said they left Conneaut, Ohio, Monday to fish in Laughlin's 16-foot outboard.

When their motor broke down, they were left with only some rolls to eat and lake water to drink for three days.

Capt. George Matheson, skipper of the Everest, said his vessel also probably would not have seen the couple if it had been daylight. Lights were seen from the ship at 6 a.m.

"One of the couple was flashing SOS signals with a small flashlight," Matheson said.

'SHORTY' KEMP RETIRES AT SAANICHTON

Incurable Inventor Feted

By HUMPHRY DAVY

The Dominion Experimental Farm, Saanichton, said goodbye Thursday to a man who is famed in Canadian and U.S. agricultural circles as an inventor and scientist.

Harold J. "Shorty" Kemp was given a farewell party to mark his retirement after serving for 36 years with the research branch of the federal agricultural department.

He served 13 years at Saanichton.

Vancouver Island farmers and those of other provinces owe much to Mr. Kemp.

He developed a sugar dispenser for use in the processing of strawberries, a portable 20-inch cylinder thresher, a flail-type vegetable seed thresher, and a herbicide sprayer for experimental projects and plant growth chambers.

TIME-SAVERS

Other achievements included innumerable time-saving gadgets for farm machinery.

In the field of science, Mr. Kemp conceived the idea of developing a spring-type bread wheat with resistance to sawfly, an insect which once threatened to destroy the wheat crops of the Prairie Provinces.

Another of his projects involved the production of Prospect barley, the first drought-tolerant variety that would give assured yields of feed barley in the drier areas of southern Saskatchewan and Alberta.

His achievement as an inventor, however, overshadowed his work as a scientist.

"Whenever there was a mechanical problem to be solved to ease the work of farmers, Shorty was sure to come up with the answer," said agricultural officials. "He was always thinking things up."

It was in 1956 that Mr. Kemp's achievements were recognized in Canada. He was awarded a Fellowship in the Agricultural Institute of Canada, one of the top honors which can be achieved by a Canadian agriculturist.

Born at Hastings, England, Mr. Kemp came to Canada at the age of 18 years, and worked as a farmhand for six years in Saskatchewan.

A thirst for more knowledge and a love of the land led to his enrolling at the Manitoba Agricultural College from where he graduated in 1923, having majored in agronomy, agricultural engineering and agricultural economics.

Mr. Kemp lives at All Bay Road, Sidney.

He won't give up inventing machinery and equipment for the agricultural industry.

"I have always liked my work because it was creative," he said, "but I still have lots of hobbies to keep me busy."

Membership Drive By Technical Body

Plans were discussed Thursday for a membership drive at a meeting of the Victoria Chapter, Society of Architectural and Engineering Technologists.

The chapter, the first to be formed in British Columbia, hopes to enroll 100 new members within the next few months.

It also plans to develop educational courses to assist members seeking higher classification in various branches of engineering technology.

Officers elected at the meeting were R. C. Barnett, president; John Paynter, vice-president; Howard Taylor, secretary; W. Bates, treasurer; George Douglas, Vern Davidson, Derek MacDonald, N. Pope, D. J. Chorlton and E. M. Johnson, directors.

City Must Find $150,000 To Replace BCE Poles

Victoria will have to dig up $150,000 next year or in 1961 to replace B.C. Electric poles in the downtown area with light standards.

"It's time we gave some thought to where the money is coming from," Ald. Elmer McEwen told the city council on Thursday.

The utility's poles come down in two years when the power lines go underground. In several places — parts of Courtney, Broad, Fisgard, Gordon — these poles carry street lighting luminaries.

The money will be needed for erecting light standards in these locations, for supplementary mercury vapor lighting in several other locations, for traffic signal standards and for wiring.

JOLT COMING

Ald. McEwen also said merchants will get a jolt when they hook onto the new underground wiring system and find it costs them money for the changeover.

Mayor Percy Scurrell said he could confirm the point because "I'd be up against an expenditure of $4,000 to $5,000 myself."

City engineer James Garnett told council that this year's underground work had been reduced from last year — it begins Monday and ends December 4 — to avoid dislocations of the downtown traffic pattern as occurred last year.

'Candy' Binge Nearly Fatal

Four-year-old Brenda Abbott, 4095 Cedar Hill, was in "good" condition today in St. Joseph's Hospital after swallowing seven sleeping tablets which she apparently mistook for candy.

The mother, Mrs. Lena Abbott, noticed Brenda behaving in a peculiar manner and called a doctor after the child fell down several times. She found the box of sleeping pills open in the kitchen and called Saanich police who took the child to hospital.

Mrs. Abbott said Brenda used a chair to reach the pill box, and must have thought the red pills were candy. An attending doctor said the dose of pills "could well have been fatal."

Brenda was treated with a stomach pump at the hospital. The child was asleep when she arrived.

BOND ROBBERY SUSPECT HELD BY U.S. POLICE

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — State police and FBI agents have arrested Lawrence LaRocque and recovered $25,000 in Canadian bonds reported stolen in an $800,000 burglary at Premier Trust Co., St. Catharines, Ont., early this year, it was announced today.

There has been an upsurge in the snowshoe hare population in southeastern Ontario.

'Life-Saving' Jail Term

An alcohol addict Thursday was sent to jail for six months to "save your life."

Clifford Roland Davidson, no fixed address, found guilty of breaking and entering with intent Aug. 27, was told by Magistrate William Ostler in Saanich court his background was "shocking and depressing... complete deterioration of a human being."

End of the trail for Davidson, he said, if he carried on as he had been doing, would be insanity and death, and you are well on your way.

'USELESS LIFE'

Background on Davidson, the magistrate said, was he had led "an utterly useless life" and had also had every possible help to beat his alcoholic affliction, to no purpose. A suspended sentence would just put Davidson back into

He advised "give more than lip service" to Alcoholics

Davidson, who had been treated under the B.C. Alcoholic Foundation and various other media, said he had been asked to do things "beyond my powers" in reformation.

U.S. TENNIS

Ripe For Upset

FOREST HILLS (UPI) — Roy Emerson, the "forgotten Australian," was gunning for an upset today against Wimbledon champion Alex Olmedo of Peru in the quarter-finals of the U.S. tennis championships.

Olmedo, big Barry MacKay of Dayton, O., Neale Fraser and Rod Laver of Australia, are favored to hammer their way into the semifinals, but if there's any monkey-wrench tossing Emerson figures he's the man to do it.

"It all depends on how Olmedo plays," said the 22-year-old Emerson, who ranks second to Fraser in his country but was passed over in favor of third-ranked Laver in Davis Cup singles play.

"Unless Olmedo has one of those inspired days, I think I can beat him."

NEARING PEAK

The peculiar Peruvian, however, was building up to the mental peak that carried him to the heights in 1958 Davis Cup competition, in the Australian championships and again at Wimbledon. Alex is a big favorite to face Fraser in Sunday's final.

MacKay, America's chief hope among the U.S. survivors, met Bernard (Tut) Bartenzen of San Angelo, Tex., in another quarter-final and one Yank automatically will be eliminated. Laver faced another American, Ron Holmberg, of Brooklyn.

Fraser, a slashing lefty who licked both Olmedo and MacKay in the Davis Cup challenge round and won the doubles with Emerson, plays Pan-American champ Luis Ayala of Chile in the other quarter-final. In women's singles, it's Wimbledon champ Maria Bueno vs. Louise Brough Clapp of Beverly Hills, Calif.; Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., vs. 16-year-old Karen Hantze of San Diego, Calif.; Sandra Reynolds of South Africa vs. Ann Haydon of England, and Britain's Christine Truman vs. Dorothy Head Knodel of Panama.

SHARP PERFORMANCE

MacKay racked up his fourth consecutive straight set victory Thursday by downing Bob Mark of Australia, 6-4, 6-7, committing only 10 double faults—good for Barry—and dropping his service only once after leading 5-4 in the final set.

Ayala completed the quarter-final brackets, making it five foreign-born players and three Americans, by winning as he pleased from Dr. Ed Dailey of Harrisburg, Pa., 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Bueno defeated Jeanne Arth of St. Paul, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5; Mrs. Clapp eliminated Shirley Bloomer Brasher of England, 6-0, 1-6, 6-2, and Darlene, runner-up at Wimbledon this year, defeated 18-year-old Parel Footman of San Francisco, 4-6, 7-5, 8-6. Miss Hantze trounced Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Texas, 6-3, 6-2.

WHEATON HAPPY WITH COACHING

Dissension? Could Be, But Bob Not Bothered

By IAN SMITH

There may have been dissension on the Canadian Pan-American Games swimming team at Chicago, but it didn't affect Victoria backstroke star Bob Wheaton.

The 17-year-old Victoria YMCA swimmer was very emphatic on that point when he arrived back in Victoria Thursday.

The dissension came to light this week when Vancouver's Helen Stewart Hunt criticized coach Alec Stermac for his training methods.

Mrs. Hunt said, in part, that

WARRIOR SUSPENDED

TORONTO (CP) — Jake Bomberri of the Brantford Warriors intermediate club Thursday was indefinitely suspended by president F. K. Conradi of the Ontario Lacrosse Association.

The suspension resulted from a quarter-final playoff game between Brantford and Fergus Thistles Wednesday at Fergus in which Bomberri threw a ball at referee Bob McCandless of Georgetown, knocked him down and kicked him.

The game was called—after only 17 minutes—and the 500 spectators given their money back.

McCandless spent the night in hospital and was released Thursday. His injuries were not serious.

Wheaton admitted that the dissension could have been a factor "in the generally poor performance of the 23-member swim team. 'It didn't upset me,' he said, 'but I know that some of the other swimmers were quite perturbed about it. That might have affected their performances.'

"I know one thing... I was quite happy. And so was Sara Barber."

ONLY ONE GAME OUT

Plenty of Life In Mounties Yet

By The Associated Press

Salt Lake City's Pacific Coast League lead over Vancouver Mounties was cut to one game Thursday night as the Bees found Sacramento a bundle of trouble.

The Bees lost 5-3 to the Solons in 10 innings while the Mounties were squeezing past Seattle Rainiers, 3-2.

The Bees are scheduled to play four more games before the curtain drops on the 1959 PCL campaign Sunday night. Vancouver has three games to go.

In other league action San Diego Padres dropped Phoenix 12-7 in 11 frames and Spokane Indians went 13 innings in beating the Portland Beavers 4-3.

Sacramento had a 3-2 lead going into the last of the ninth but the Bees sent the game into an extra inning with one run on Dick Barone's double and Eddy Moore's single. In the 10th the Solons got one run on a pair of singles, an error and a walk, then chased in their fifth tally while Salt Lake City tried to work a double play. R. C. Stevens accounted for Salt Lake City's first two runs in the sixth with his 19th homer of the season.

The Mounties had to overcome a sparkling pitching job by Seattle's Bob Mabe. Mabe struck out 12 Vancouver batters, gave up only six hits and no walks. Vancouver got the winning run in the eighth on a fielder's choice, Marv Breeding's stolen base, Jim Finigan's single and an error. Joe Batten, the winner, gave up seven hits, struck out four and walked four.

Six-a-Side Cricket Makes Debut Sunday

Six-a-side cricket makes its debut in Victoria, Sunday, at Beacon Hill Park.

Victoria fans will get their first opportunity to see this variation of the game as the five teams of the Victoria and District Cricket Association and two Vancouver teams stage a knockout tournament, scheduled to start at noon.

Each side will consist of six players and each player, except the wicketkeeper, will bowl one over of eight balls.

The side scoring the greatest number of runs in the five overs allotted, irrespective of wickets lost, will be declared the winner. Wide balls will be scored as four runs for the team at bat.

Finalists will play a two-innings match.

A junior game between Victoria and a Vancouver aggregation will be played at Beacon

Hill, Saturday, starting at 1 p.m. Stumps will be drawn at 6 o'clock.

Shuttle Action Starts Monday

The Belmont Badminton Club is ready to knock birds around for another season.

Belmont bird-belters will hold regular sessions on Mondays and Wednesdays. All former club members as well as any newcomers are invited to turn out for the opening night Monday at Belmont School, starting at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Ethel Sudnes was elected president at the club's annual general meeting this week. Bill Law was named vice-president while Sally Williams is secretary-treasurer and Jim Massie team captain. Directors are Ken Hinks, Ron Brousseau and Mrs. Nelsie McCulloch.

"My mistake," he said, "was in swimming the first lap too slowly, pacing myself. The fellow who finished third did just the opposite. He broke away quickly and led us all at the turn. He tired and I was catching up all the way at the end, but I just hadn't started fast enough to catch up."

Pall or Pennant? Giants Not Sure

Contenders Make Headway As 'Frisco Favorites Fall

By United Press International

The Giants are getting it from both barrels now and if Los Angeles Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves keep firing away, there's liable to be a pall instead of a pennant in San Francisco.

Everything went wrong for the Giants Thursday.

First, they blew a 5-3 decision to Pittsburgh Pirates and then they saw their National League lead shrink to two games when the Dodgers blanked the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-0, and the Braves beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-4.

The victories by Los Angeles and Milwaukee kept them tied for second place and kept them coming straight at San Francisco.

Roger Craig pitched the Dodgers to their third straight victory with a three-hitter that gave them an 11-0 home sweep against the Phillies this season. Norm Larker singled-home two runs in the first inning and the Dodgers picked up three more off loser Don Cardwell in the fifth with the aid of triples by Maury Wills and Charlie Neal.

Hank Aaron paced the Braves to their fifth straight triumph when he doubled home three runs in a four-run seventh inning rally that overcame a 4-3 Cardinal lead. In addition to his double, Aaron also had a single, giving him a total of 200 hits so far for the season.

Two homers by Willie Mays plus another by Willie Kirkland staked Giant southpaw Johnny Antonelli to a 3-1 lead over the Pirates after six innings, but he couldn't hold it. The Pirates rallied for four runs in the seventh which was highlighted by Roberto Clemente's two-run single.

Antonelli, seeking to become the majors' first 20-game winner of the year, wound up with his eighth defeat instead. Vern Law went the route for Pittsburgh and won his 16th.

The Cubs split a double-header with the Reds, taking the nightcap, 6-3, after Cincinnati won the opener, 10-4.

George Altman's bases-loaded double in the eighth inning produced the Cubs' winning margin in the nightcap. Bill Henry won his ninth game in relief and rookie Jim Bailey, brother of Cincy catcher Ed Bailey, was the loser in his first major league start. Frank Robinson drove in three runs with his 35th homer and a double in the opener and rookie Cliff Cook drove in four more for the Reds with a triple and two singles.

Senators Turn on Front-Runners

In the American League the last-place Washington Senators slapped down the first-place Chicago White Sox, 8-2; Baltimore Orioles snapped Cleveland Indians' six-game winning streak, 6-1; New York Yankees massacred the nose-diving Kansas City Athletics, 12-1, and Boston Red Sox beat the Detroit Tigers, 7-3.

Washington's victory over Chicago was a labor of love. Prior to Thursday the White Sox had licked the Senators 11 straight times, but Camillo Pascual put a stop to that by striking out 10 and pitching a four-hitter for his 15th victory.

Jim Lemon slammed his 29th homer with one on off loser Dick Donovan in the first inning and Harmon Killebrew connected for his 40th homer with one aboard during a four-run third-inning rally. Lennie Green also homered with one on in the seventh.

Despite the loss, the White Sox retained their four and one-half game lead and reduced their pennant-winning "magic number" to 11 when the second-place Indians lost to the Orioles.

Knucklebailer Hoyt Wilhelm limited the tribe to three hits and fanned 10 in bringing his season record to 14-11. Brooks Robinson drove in four runs for Baltimore with a double and a three-run homer. Cal McLish was charged with his eighth setback compared with 17 victories.

Mickey Mantle and Ralph Terry had themselves a field day in the Yankees' romp over the Athletics, who lost their 13th in a row. Mantle led a 20-hit attack with five hits, including his 28th homer, while Terry had a one-hitter until the ninth and then wound up with a four-hitter for his fifth triumph. Tony Kubek also homered for New York. Ray Herbert was the loser.

Coach Under Fire After Grid Death

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Incensed by growing criticism in the aftermath of a teammate's tragic death, a group of University of Maryland football players came to the defense of coach Tom Nugent today.

So did the parents of the victim, Charles (Sonny) Lohr. Four members acting as spokesmen for the team denied a report that Lohr had undergone a prolonged workout under protest before his fatal collapse on the practice field.

They volunteered the statement after Robert D. Welshmer, 17-year-old high school player, said he saw Lohr kept on the field Sept. 2 after the rest of the team was dismissed. Two other youths supported Welshmer's account.

Lohr, 19-year-old centre, collapsed at the end of a drill and died Sunday. Doctors said he died from the effects of heat exhaustion.

Welshmer said Lohr complained, "I can't do it," after falling to the ground three or four times during one drill, yet was ordered by an assistant coach to continue.

Alan Long, 19, said he heard Lohr plead: "Please coach, let me stop."

Publication of Welshmer's account drew protests from guard Tom Gunderman, half-back Bob Gallagher, quarterback Dwayne Fletcher and tackle Kurt Schwartz.

"I was out there at the same time with Sonny and didn't see or hear any coach yelling or driving anybody," said Fletcher.

Mrs. Lucile Lohr, mother of the victim, told Nugent in a letter that the family does not feel he was responsible for the boy's death.

Forced to Lie in Puddles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Icelandic ambassador protested today that American guards at Keflavik Airport forced two

Icelandic officials to lie in puddles of water for 10 minutes and threatened to shoot them if they opened their mouths. Ambassador Thor Thors delivered the protest to Foy Kohler, the acting assistant state secretary for European affairs. In a dispatch from Reykjavik, the New York Times said today the incident had caused an upsurge of anti-American feeling in Iceland. Thors told reporters the account of the incident given by the Times was correct.

The Times said the Icelanders, one in the uniform of the Icelandic airport service, were escorting two German pilots to a hangar where their aircraft was under repair last Saturday night.

The story quoted the American command as saying the area is restricted at night though open in the daytime. It said the Icelanders said there was no indication it was a closed area.

POLITICAL career is being seriously considered by crooner Rudy Vallee, idol of the 1930s. He says he may run for mayor of Los Angeles. There's one snag, though—current mayor Norris Poulson is one of his fraternity brothers.

Phil Lee's Two for the Show

AA (Oscar Class) B (For Rainy Days) A (Don't Miss) C (To put in time)

(A TO OSCAR CLASS) "THE LAST TRAIN FROM GUN HILL" (Capitol)—Here is a western so excellent that it may very well turn out to be the finest of 1959. Only "Rio Bravo" so far can be mentioned in the same breath.

James Poe's adaptation of Les Crutchfield's story makes the Paramount effort both adult and virile. The acting by principals Kirk Douglas, Anthony Quinn, Carolyn Jones and Earl Holliman is distinguished as is the plot that starts off with rape and accidental murder and ends without bowing to the usual happy ending seemingly the trademark of the cliché western.

In addition to the above "The Last Train From Gun Hill" is marked by superb color photography, especially in the opening scenes that are as real as though one were watching an event through a window.

THE PLOT begins with the rape and murder of Douglas' Indian wife Ziva Rodann by Holliman, son of Quinn, a wealthy rancher and one-time best friend of Douglas. Douglas, who is marshal of Pawley, Oklahoma, immediately follows the slayer to Gun Hill, a town pretty well owned and operated by Quinn.

From there on it is a fight to the end between two old best friends. And, fortunately for the sake of the film, gun-fighting and brawling are kept to the minimum. When the action does start it is because it is logical to the telling of the story rather than the usual action for action's sake.

There is scarcely any love story to tell.

As usual Douglas and Quinn acquit themselves in professional fashion. But it is young Holliman and Miss Jones who catch the eye. It is their characterizations that give the film its difference, its rhyme and reason.

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan bid for re-election today with a promise that he will press efforts to secure world peace in the present "more constructive" international climate.

DEATH ON JOB —HIS LAST 15 MINUTES

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (AP)—Frank R. Duggan, 65, was drowned Thursday, 15 minutes before he was due to retire as a cement finisher. Just before the end of his last day of work at a sewer plant project he toppled from a scaffold into a five-foot deep pit half filled with water.

C of C Plans Fluoridation Vote Lobby

Fluoridation committee of the Chamber of Commerce's public affairs group today laid plans for its campaign to have an area-wide vote this year.

"We will ask for permission to attend this month's meeting of the intermunicipal committee to present the facts to them," said Ira Hill, head of the fluoridation committee.

He added that the committee also plans to approach individual councils if necessary.

Mr. Hill said the committee "is not discouraged" by pro-fluoridationists' surprise efforts to obtain a postponement of the vote.

Most recent setback occurred Wednesday when Victoria-Esquamalt health board recommended to city council that no referendum be held this year. Council already has voted approval of a December referendum, the only municipality to do so.

But with the health board's recommendation, and a similar suggestion earlier from intermunicipal committee, city council may rescind the vote.

Both recommendations were sponsored by pro-fluoridationists, notably Esquamalt Councilman G. K. Sammon, on the grounds that the public was not ready for a vote and should not be asked to make a premature decision.

Official reason given for the health board's recommendation was a desire to await results of a controlled experiment among 300 Grade 1 pupils here by the provincial government's health department.

The one-year project will see application of fluoride to the teeth of half the pupils for a comparison of the incidence of dental cavities.

Judge Displayed 'Antipathy' Says Ironworkers' Union

Hearing continued in B.C. Court of Appeal in Victoria Thursday of an appeal by the Ironworkers' Union from conviction for contempt of court in connection with work on Vancouver's Second Narrows bridge.

The union and three of its officers were fined $19,000 after 18 men failed to return to work on the bridge.

Wednesday union lawyer Thomas Berger claimed Mr. Justice A. M. Manson exhibited "a certain antipathy towards the union officers, an antipathy calculated to embarrass conduct of the union's case."

Earlier, he claimed the judge's back-to-work order was made outside his jurisdiction and that he went "too far and further than he was asked" in making the order.

'Something Peculiar' Noted By Alderman on Land Deal

Suggestions of "something peculiar" and unethical procedure were made Thursday when city council accepted a $32,100 bid by a Toronto company for several city lots.

The lots, located on Kingston Street and formerly comprising the grounds of the defunct Camosun Tennis Club, were sought by three bidders as a site for a $1,000,000 apartment development of 70 to 100 suites.

Bids entered were: $22,550 by B.C. Land and Investment Agency on behalf of Gerald Hamilton and Associates; $30,200 by King Realty on behalf of Kingston Apartments Ltd.; and $32,100 by Imperial Bank of Canada on behalf of C. Gordon Chapman Ltd. of Toronto.

"There seems to be something peculiar here," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, noting that the two high bids were relatively close to each other although far above the third.

WHY?

"Has anyone got an explanation for these extraordinary figures?" he asked.

"There is nothing extraordinary," replied Mayor Percy Scurrah. "There is $2,000 difference between the high bids."

Ald. Edgelow asked if any of the three bidders was the party that had negotiated for the property before it was put up for sale. City manager C. C. Wyatt said no.

'No Foreign Bases' Mr. K. Tells Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (Reuters)—Nikita Khrushchev has told Iran that Russia is willing to end its present strained relations with this country provided Iran bars "foreign, anti-Soviet" bases from its soil, informed sources reported today.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, recalling that only the $22,550 bid had been entered when the property first was put for sale earlier this year, said he was "worried about council's moral obligation to the original bidder."

The $22,550 bid was publicly disclosed before council called for tenders a second time on the grounds that through a slipup it had not obtained title to a roadway on the property when it was first offered for sale.

"These two other bidders knew that disclosed bid when they bid on the property this time," said Ald. Dowell. "I hate like the dickens to see the city lose $10,000. Nevertheless, right is right and wrong is wrong."

"I'm very much concerned by the way this matter is being handled by city council. I'm worried about the ethical aspect."

Mayor Scurrah said the "whole thing is unfortunate" but agreed with the majority of aldermen that the council should accept the highest bid.

City Water Rates Due To Spiral

Mt. Tolmie Reservoir First of Big Projects

An imminent increase of $1.50 in annual water bills, with even larger boosts expected hard on its heels, faces Greater Victoria water consumers.

Approval today by Greater Victoria Water Board of the first of three major projects will see construction of a $750,000 reservoir on Mount Tolmie started this year.

It will add 1.3 cents to the present 10-cent rate for 1,000 gallons. Initial financing of the 5 1/2-mile Japan Gulch tunnel project probably will begin next year, raising the 1,000-gallon cost to 14 cents.

DOUBLED

By 1963, today's rate will be doubled to 20 cents per 1,000 gallons, to finance the total $4,000,000 cost of the tunnel, water commissioner Ronald Upward predicted.

That will add about $12 to the annual bill of the average consumer. Construction of the Mount Tolmie reservoir will head off a further increase by delaying for 10 years the need for a fourth pipeline to the area.

PAID OFF

By the time it is needed, the board will have paid off its debt to the city which accounts for six cents of the present 10-cent rate. Lifting of the debt will free that money for financing the pipeline without a further increase. Board was told that the Mount Tolmie reservoir would enable Saanich to solve its water pressure problem in the Ten Mile Point area and remove the possibility of water rationing in Oak Bay. It also will increase the Hillside area's pressure slightly.

BIG SAVING

Reeve George Chatterton pointed out that by delaying the need for the new pipeline, construction of the reservoir would save the board about $2,000,000 in interest rates over the next decade.

Mr. Upward backed his recommendation for construction of the reservoir by noting it would increase water supply and stabilize pressures and provide an emergency source of water that was proof against radiation fallout. The concrete reservoir will be covered.

'NO POLITICS' IN SETTING ELECTION DATE

The deciding factor in setting a provincial election date will be "what is best for the people," Premier Bennett said today.

"No political considerations will be thought of." He said it's still a toss-up whether the election will come in 1960 or 1961.

Told that Provincial Conservative leader Deane Finlayson guesses it will happen next spring, the premier said, "Who is Finlayson? Has he any members in the House?"

Village Vote Rejected for View Royal

The provincial government has turned down a request for a referendum in View Royal this year to decide whether it will be incorporated as a village.

A. W. Bradfield who led a petition that gathered more than 700 names requesting the referendum, today said his group plans "to go down and talk to the department" of municipal affairs before mapping further moves.

He said the government's reason for rejection was that a number of persons signed both pro and anti-referendum petitions.

The opposing petition, circulated by a group headed by beer parlor manager William Hollick, was signed by 460 persons in the area.

"It is a very interesting situation," observed Mr. Bradfield. "Apparently some citizens can't make up their minds on what they want."

U.K. Adjudicator For Music Festival

As a result of a decision by the executive committee, the Victoria Music Festival will join the chain of Canadian music festivals this fall, bringing one of a team of British adjudicators to this city for the 1960 festival.

This is a move that has been advocated by many people for some time and due to the increased financial success of this year's festival it has now become possible.

Selected by the local committee to judge adult vocal and choral classes, is Roy Hickman, who will be traveling with the British team to all major festivals in Canada through to Vancouver.

Adult classes will occupy the first week of the festival, April 25-29, 1960, with school vocal and choral following, May 2, 3 and 4. Glyndwr

There is also an exhibition of heather, which includes some rare species.

VICTORIA, B.C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1959

MONTE ROBERTS

From far-off Edmonton (in some province or other of the Canadian nation) comes word from Al Markle, a former denizen of Victoria.

Mr. Markle refers to a comment which appeared in this space some time ago, anent a suggestion that the capital of B.C. should be moved from Victoria to Vancouver, to eliminate the need for protests against publications which state the capital of B.C. is at Vancouver.

Writes Mr. Markle: "There may be some merit in suggesting the capital be moved, but it would leave a ghastly open spot at the foot of Government Street, good only for a gas station, cricket pitch, tearoom, or a square for the public hanging of those deserving to be publicly hanged."

"What I wish to point out is, you may feel a little better in the knowledge you are not the only city being pushed around by foreign (i.e., Yankee) publications."

"Argosy magazine, in its SPECIAL CANADIAN SECTION, has misplaced Edmonton. Argosy has, without consulting any of the appropriate officials, placed Edmonton in B.C."

"Woe to B.C. Although personally I feel that Edmonton in B.C.—anyplace at all in B.C.—would make more sense than Edmonton in Alberta."

"Besides, it would get me closer to home. Best to those lucky enough to be basking in that infernal sun."

"I must put on my muk-luks and go now. We had a nice summer. It was on Thursday, July 9."

My thanks to Mr. Markle for his kindly information. After all, we caught Social Credit from Alberta, why not Edmonton, too?

I am sure all the constituents will join me in wishing Mr. Markle the best of muk-luck.

JAPANESE APPEALS TO TIMES READERS

'I See Going to Canada In Dream...Hoping Daily'

A remarkable letter written by a 25-year-old Japanese living in Tokyo reached The Victoria Daily Times today.

Masao Ono wants to come to Canada to study the language, to learn our customs and habits and to explore "your lovely lakes and woodlands."

In a long and neatly-scripted letter addressed to "all of readers of The Victoria Daily Times," he expresses himself forcefully in quaint but eloquent English.

"Recently," he writes, "I see going to Canada in a dream. I hope every day, from the bottom of my heart, my desire materializes."

"I heartily await letters from you and your readers who are kind to understand my appeal."

Masao Ono, born May 16, 1934, enclosed a portrait and, after giving a brief account of his scholastic career, added: "No awards received. No punishment inflicted." He says he attended the Tokyo Metropolitan Hiroo High School, the Tokyo Shokin College and in 1957 entered the Riken Optical Industries Ltd., in Tokyo.

His letter follows: Masao Ono, Nishi Okubo Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo, Japan Sept. 5, 1959

Dear All of Readers of the Victoria Daily Times: It is my greatest pleasure to be able to present my compliment through the Victoria Daily Times from far Japan to dear Canadian peoples who love Japan famed for Mount Fuji and cherry blossoms.

Cherry Blossoms

Japan has been developing as an industry country. It is in fact the greatest industry country in the Orient. And it is and will be, too. But in spite of what they say, it is also the land of beautiful cherry blossoms and Mount Fuji.

All over the Japan is covered with cherry blossoms in April in every year. In my boyhood I heard Canada is also very beautiful country and there are many lakes and vast woodlands. Since that time I have been having a vague longing for your country.

But now my longing for your country grows very larger and at last I make up my mind to go to Canada and study English conversation among two or three years.

I'm very sorry I cannot understand English well, so I'm writing this letter, wrestling with dictionaries. I think therefore there are many errors in my letter. It is said that the best way to master the foreign language is to go to that country.

Two, Three Years I heartily want to go to your country to know customs, habits and other many things in Canada, to work, to live with Canadian peoples, to stay two or three years or more, to study English conversation to speak like as my mother tongue and make a living in my future with linguistic knowledge of English and a little one of French if I can.

So would you mind keeping me in your service for staying in your country as a domestic servant, a house boy or any others, whatever I can. I'll do it with all my might.

I have been saving money to make a voyage to Canada. If you guarantee my passage money to Canada and return to Japan, and board for me, I don't especially hope my rewards. Because I want to go to study English but not to make money.

Live With Mother I was born in 1934 in Tokyo. I had been living with my parents and an elder sister till in wartime. But the sister married in 1943 and father died of disease in 1944, both in the middle of the World War II.

Since that time I have been living alone with mother. My house and the majority of Tokyo was burned to ashes by bombing attacks in the war. Several years in the middle and after the end of the war were most hard periods for us.

But we were lucky enough to find our way out of difficulties in that several years and because of great efforts of my mother I could graduate a primary, a middle and a high school, even a college.

After graduated the high school, I assisted a shop managed by my mother among two years. But she closed up the shop as we became to be able to live and decent life and I entered a college.

But I could never forget a dream to go to Canada and at last I determined to go to Canada and to stay two or three years or more.

Honorable Father My mother can live alone enough as she has a lot of property left by honorable deceased father. Therefore I have not any anxiety, any uneasiness about the life of my mother. And she is very healthy and vigorous. I have not any solicitude on this point.

She gave her approval with pleasure to my plans. My sister is now mother of one girl and two boys and also lives in Tokyo.

And her husband is engaged extensively in a commission business in marine products, so they live in a plenty. He stands security for me.

I'm very sorry I cannot express well of my thoughts and ideas as my English is very poor. I want to go to live in, to study and to speak with Canadian peoples.

Since that day I made up mind, I have been seeing going to Canada in a dream and heartily wait coming of the day. It is the greatest desire to me of present time.

I sincerely wish your taking me into your service and I await letters from you who are kind enough to understand my mind.

Yours very truly, MASAO ONO.

Sailor Fined For Swearing

A $40 fine was levied on AB Norman Jarvis, 21, HMCS Skeena, in city court today for swearing in a public place.

He pleaded guilty. Police evidence was the sailor was "shouting and swearing" to a friend across the street at Yates and Douglas, and when approached by the officer used obscene language to him.

There were "numerous" women pedestrians around at the time, police said.

Caramel Sauce for Sundaes Makes Delicious Icing, Too

By PENNY SAVER

A delicious rich, true caramel sauce is one of the 22 new products of a line of toppings, jams and jellies that has just been developed this year.

For home sundaes, this is a scrumptious sauce, worthy of making even the most particular gourmet's mouth water. Comes in chocolate-caramel flavor, too.

But what Penny liked especially was the thrill of the caramel cake frosting this sauce makes. Recipe is simplicity itself—a cup of the plain sauce (or of the chocolate-caramel) is added slowly to a quarter of a cup of creamed margarine. Then you gradually add three and a half cups of confectioners' sugar. Result is a dream of creamy frosting.

If you have a battle-royal when it's time to get the children to drink milk, this sauce can save the day. Add four tablespoons of the caramel or chocolate-caramel sauce to a glass of milk—heat it, stirring. This hot milk shake will be gulped down by youngsters in a minute.

Price is 29 cents a jar.

Jellies are extra good, too. One our family likes especially is the raspberry. Flavor is delicious, and you don't have to battle the seeds.

The strawberry jelly makes an out-of-this-world jelly omelet. Grape jelly combines with peanut butter for a vitamin and protein packed sandwich for a school lunch-box. Grape jelly's the thing for jelly rolls, too.

Angel cake is topped magnificently with the pure peach preserves that are in this line. Cut your cake in half, and spread peach preserves as layer filler. Spread remaining preserves on top. For the finishing touch, whipped cream, sweetened, is spread on sides of cake. Result is heavenly. Jellies and preserves cost around 34 cents.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This Girl Is So Skinny She's Embarrassed

Q. "My problem is very serious to me. It is almost wrecking my life. I am 5 feet 8 inches tall, and weigh 116 pounds. My bust measures 35 inches, waist 24 and hips 36. I don't mind being tall but I am about to die of embarrassment from being so skinny."

A. You are VERY much underweight. If you have a medium frame, you should weigh 148 pounds. Even if your frame is very slight you should weigh 133 pounds.

Take a half hour rest period before each meal if you possibly can. I mean really lie down in a darkened quiet room and try to relax completely. Add a little cream to the milk you drink and drink some milk between meals. Ask your doctor how much vitamin B complex to take daily.

Of course get plenty of sleep and be sure that your diet is well-balanced.

Q. "Your column has stated several times that thin legs are due to underweight. Pray tell me why so many girls have very nice legs while heavy women have thin legs. It can't depend entirely on weight. Please write about this."

A. When you gain in weight it affects every portion of your body, some more than others. The shape of our legs depends on bony structure, muscle development and body weight. The distribution of weight is affected by the glandular system. In this way the shape of the leg is inherited.

You can increase the size of your legs by exercise which develops the muscles. A gain in poundage will increase your leg size, too.

DEAR ABBY...

He's Cheap, for Sure!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who thinks nothing of losing fifty dollars on a horse race but raises the roof when I order a three-dollar dinner in a cafe? That's my friend. I am 60 and he is 62. I've been widowed since 1938 and he lost his wife last year.

He invited me out to dinner and I suggested a nice place to eat. When we got there he looked at the menu and said he wasn't going to stay there and pay those kind of prices. We already had a cocktail so he paid the waitress for the drinks and I left the tip. He wanted to take me to a cheaper place (where can you get a dinner cheaper than $2.95 for pork chops?) but I asked him to take me home. I haven't seen him since. Should I call and apologize or forget about him?

HAZEL.

DEAR HAZEL: Forget him. You're lucky he showed his colors early in the game. How would you like to be married to a penny-pincher like this one?

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who carries a rabbit's foot in her purse for luck. Once she couldn't find her purse and she wouldn't go out of the house until she found it.

Her luck has been anything but good lately. She lost her job and her husband found himself another woman.

She still thinks that rabbit's foot will bring her good luck. Can you say something in your column to change her mind?

WILLIE MAE.

DEAR WILLIE MAE: The rabbit's foot your sister carries was certainly bad luck for the rabbit. This should settle it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 years old and recently had my first baby. My husband has started to call me "Mommy". My husband is 32 years old.

Abby, I just hate it. I am not his "Mommy". His mother is living and she is about 60.

Maybe this shouldn't irritate me the way it does, but I can't help it. I have told him to quit calling me "Mommy" but he says it just slips out. Now, what should I do?

"ANYTHING BUT MOMMY"

DEAR ANYTHING: Simmer down. You have already asked your husband to quit calling you "Mommy" which is all you can do. Perhaps when you address the baby you refer to yourself as "Mommy" (which is only natural). Be a little more understanding: one day you might catch yourself calling him "Daddy."

CONFIDENTIAL TO DOROTHY: Sorry. You came to your senses ten years and

Before bowling season resumes, our league of women has a very delicate problem to solve... body odor at its worst. Since the lady involved is a member of my team, I feel it is my responsibility to correct this embarrassing situation. How can one tactfully tell a person she is guilty of BO and not hurt her feelings? We don't want to go through another miserable and nauseating season.

Louise Davis Answers: The phrase "Even your best friends won't tell you" is well put. Saying it never ends happily. Even though this woman may have been told by someone in her family, she may be doing everything possible to correct it. You can be sure

Raising India's Education Level Life of Versatile Englishwoman

By MARIE MILBURN

A diminutive, soft-spoken English woman who has been one of India's outstanding figures in raising the status and level of education of women is visiting Victoria.

During her career Miss Evelyn Ashdown taught in mission schools; was professor of history at a government women's college; became headmistress of the Queen Mary's school for girls in Delhi, and finally was elected educational planning officer and head of women's work for whole Diocese of Delhi. On her retirement this summer, three people were hired to take over the job she had been doing single-handedly for years.

Girls from Miss Ashdown's school came from every community—Sikh, Mohammedan, Hindu. When she began, 11 languages were spoken. Classes are now taught in only Hindu, English and Hindustani. Miss Ashdown speaks both native languages.

Students come from wealthy homes where it is unthinkable that any girl should work. Two fields open are medicine and politics. Among graduates of Queen Mary's school there is a government minister of health, and several doctors.

"But, of course, it all depends on who they marry," Miss Ashdown adds, when speaking of careers for her graduates. "If he doesn't want her to work, she doesn't."

CUSTOM FOLLOWED

Arranged marriages are the rule. "I don't know that they aren't just as successful as our way," she adds, smiling quietly. "They accept the custom, and it seems to work out very well."

In England Miss Ashdown studied history at Cambridge University and earned the degree of Master of Arts. She then studied theology for a career in the mission field.

Mission work in India is difficult for eastern religions dominate the whole life of the people. "To change her religion, a girl would have to give up her whole way of life. She would be expelled from her native society," Miss Ashdown explains.

Christian educators convert by being living examples. Although there may not be many open conversions, the great thing is to be a "secret Christian."

This quiet little woman looks deceptively frail. In reality she has survived hair-raising adventures.

Shortly after her arrival in India the bloody Junjab riots of 1919 swept around her little mission school.

"It was too awful. I remember trying to save our servants," she recalls, with a shudder.

In 1942, en route home for a well-earned furlough, her ship was torpedoed in the south Atlantic. She was one of 53 survivors who jammed into a life raft built to hold 30. Few know how many were still alive when they were picked up 14 days later.

There were brighter moments. Her eyes sparkle as she remembers holidays in the beautiful Kashmir district. She would often enjoy five-week camping treks winding through the countryside on a tough little hill pony.

Joy in leisure hours was found in music. "When there wasn't a piano, I played the violin," she muses.

Miss Ashdown is now retiring after 41 years in India. Visiting with her sister, Miss Violet Ashdown here, she will return to her home in England in February.

Fabrics, Color, Style Fabulous In Miriam Temple Fashion Show

Fashions for a Fabulous Fall! This was the apt title for showing of new fabrics and exciting colors this afternoon by the T. Eaton Company, in their Victoria Room.

The presentation was sponsored by Miriam Temple No. 2, Daughters of the Nile.

Regency blue headlined the show with a clipped mohair coat modelled by Nona Damaske. High styling was predominant in the belted "great coat" topper with large collar, cuffed pockets and self belt. Franze Marie, of Vienna, designed matching stitched cloche.

A serviceable little topper labelled the "Five-C" coat was worn by Kay Rogers. Useful for campus, car, country, city or career, the trekner cord model is in Autumn brown. Water-repellent it is styled with double-breasted buttons, so popular in many styles for fall, and reverse neckline which can be worn buttoned up or down. Caramel melusine formed Mrs. Roger's peaked cloche, trimmed at the side with cocoa toned ribbon.

ERMINES COAT

Highlighting the coat line, Olive Bird, a veteran model, showed a sumptuous full-length ermine coat. Her chapeau by Andreotti of Italy is of laced brown satin with velvet trim.

A feature in the attractive dress collection was the jacket and frock combination. Daytime outfits in such materials as boucle, wool crepe, velvet, aqua and blin and blin and tweed, were fashioned on simple lines featuring slim sheath skirts, classic bodices with little detail and cap sleeves. Interest lay in the smart jackets.

Matching tones were in evidence in useful co-ordinate ensembles with fabric trimmed sweaters and matching skirts. A touch of Europe and the shorter hemlines was modelled by Pat Olson in her outdoor outfit of olive green slim skirt topped with soft, water resistant suede jacket. A crushed cloche and sturdy "hobo" boots completed the all-weather ensemble.

HOSTESS GOWN

Sarete of Toronto gave the showing a true touch of glamour as Helen Beirnes modelled a glittering royal blue and gold hostess gown. In ankle length it featured a sabrina neckline and versatile little tasseled belt giving it a high fashion look.

Business girls were not forgotten as smart, crisp, but dresses with variety, were modelled. Elegance and simplicity were keynotes in this department with large shawl collars and high Empire waistlines taking the fore.

Finally, the dress-up part of any woman's wardrobe was featured. Party frocks for cocktail, dances and dinner were shown. Sharon McDonaid who substituted for "Miss Victoria," Vivi Petersen, who is at present in Atlantic City, modelled a short formal dress. It was fashioned with pretty draped chiffon bodice in two-tone beige and cocoa with tiny shoestring straps over each shoulder. Skirt was of whispering taffeta.

APRON SKIRT

Helen Beirnes stepped out wearing a cocktail gown of black delustered satin. It had a deep U-neckline back and front with newest apron style skirt over a slim sheath. Another startling fashion modelled by Miss Beirnes was designed by Ingrid Michele of Montreal. Simple bodice of black lace dips very low front and back. Startling skirt is in a pinched lantern shape.

Other models for the show were Jan Joslin, Helle Drost and child models, Angella Siebner and twin brothers, Jimmy and Johnny Powell. Ida Clarkson was commentator; Miss Doreen Jackson, organist and fashion co-ordinator, Mrs. D. Tyrrell.

Valerie Knowles Wed In St. Paul's Church

St. Paul Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, was setting for an attractive evening wedding recently when Valerie Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Knowles of Park Terrace exchanged vows with Jon Irvin Mickelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mickelson of Fairways Avenue.

Rev. P. W. Roberts conducted the service.

The bride who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a full-length white gown of nylon sheer. Bodice was enhanced by a sabrina neckline and fingertip-length sleeves. Dainty silk designs embroidered the high Empire waistline, caught at back by a perky bow with flowing streamers to hemline. Wide hooded skirt was en train. A sparkling coronet of seed pearls in leaflet design encrusted with iridescent sequins held her veil of illusion mist floating to fingertip length. Red roses en bouquet completed the attractive picture.

An entourage of four bridal attendants preceded Miss Knowles up the aisle. They wore gowns in aqua tones topped with overlays of white peau-de-soie. Cummerbunds enhanced the waistlines with streamers floating to back.

Mme. Sauve Dynamic Chatelaine

QUEBEC (CP)—For the first time in 15 years, Quebec province has a premier with a wife.

The wife is Mme. Luce Sauve, attractive mother of three, veteran campaigner in the hurly-burly of Quebec's political arena and a natural athlete with a penchant for fishing.

Her husband, Joseph Paul Mignault Sauve, was named premier of Quebec Thursday night as successor to the late Maurice Duplessis.

Mr. Duplessis died a bachelor. The last chatelaine of la belle province de Quebec was the wife of the late premier Adelard Godbout, who headed a Liberal administration from 1939 to 1944.

Tall, lithe and gay, Mme. Sauve is not expected to be a quiet, seldom-seen hostess.

HUSTINGS VETERAN

She proved her mettle during the Second World War when she campaigned on behalf of her soldier-husband who was overseas. In his absence, Mme. Sauve took to the hustings, vigorously drumming up votes for him. He was returned to the provincial house with a fat margin over his Liberal opponent.

Daughter of a Joliette County farmer, she married Mr. Sauve in 1936 when he was 29 and Speaker of the Quebec legislature.

They live normally at St. Eustache, near Montreal in a spacious white clapboard house with extensive grounds.

They have three children. Luce-Paul, 22, and Pierre, 20, are both students at the University of Montreal while Gilette, 15, is in secondary school at Jesus-Marie Convent.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other interesting prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The winner who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia. Canadian editions and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times. Andy sends a complete 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Raymond Grimmer, aged 9, of Avon, S.D., for his question:

Are Weeds Good for Anything?

At times weeds can be a great nuisance. When they grow in our fields and gardens they take food, light and air from our cultivated plants. If we want a bright garden or rich crop, we must pull out these thieving weeds, roots and all.

Chances are they will try to grow back again and we wonder what use these wretched plants may be. The truth is that the so-called weed plants have many important roles in the scheme of Nature. When a tangle of weeds takes over an uncultivated field they keep the soil from blowing away. As they live and die, they add rich chemicals to the earth. In fact, soil would be impossible without weed plants, for soil is merely powdered rock mixed with decaying plant and animal life. When a mass of weeds invades a stretch of bare earth, all sorts of animals come along to feed on them. These creatures live and die, adding more rich chemicals to the soil. The milkweed is a handsome plant but it takes a lot of goodness from the soil. Its feathery seeds blow far and wide and may invade our fields and gardens. To us it is a weed, but to certain other creatures it is very valuable.

Benefit Bees, Rodents

The beautiful Monarch butterfly lays her eggs on the milkweed and their baby caterpillars can eat nothing but its leaves. We would not have these beautiful butterflies without the milkweed. Too, there would be fewer orioles in the world. In fact, many birds would perish if it were not for the seeds which weeds supply. The lark and the cheerful chickadee feed on weed seeds throughout the winter. Robins, bobolinks, goldfinches and blackbirds are but a few of the birds who would starve were there no weed seeds. Even wild ducks and geese depend on the seeds of water weeds.

Bees gather honey from weed flowers that are often too small for us to notice.

Woodchucks and countless other nibblers feed on the leaves of weeds and grasses. So, without weeds, many of the wild animals who share our beautiful world would become fewer, or even disappear altogether.

There are other reasons, even more important, why we should not wish to destroy all the weeds in the world. All our lovely garden flowers were developed from wild flowers which were once weeds. All our cereals, garden vegetables, salad greens and most of our fruits are descended from wild weed-ancestors.

U.S. AIRMAN SURVIVES 3 DAYS IN SEA CAPSULE

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—An air force sergeant emerged Thursday apparently in good shape, after three days at sea in a "survival capsule" designed to make a parachuting over water less risky.

The capsule shoots up like a clamshell around the pilot when he punches a bail-out button. It has three chutes to ease its descent.

The capsule from which Sgt. Jimmy B. Graves climbed—a bit seasick, tired and cramped—was not dropped from the skies. The navy said such tests are to follow.

Graves, 31, radioed hourly reports on his "cruise" in the little cockleshell. By opening a hatch, he could move around and even change clothing. The rounded, wedge-shaped craft is two feet wide, 40 inches long and 46 inches high.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — You've met guys who say to you when you drop in—at least I hope you've met such guys anyway, these guys say, "Have a drink?"

Eddie Albert says, "Have a pill?"

To Eddie Albert, this is the height of hospitality. When he handed me a $4.98 bottle of protein pills to prove he was sincere in his generosity, I took out three and stuck them in my shirt pocket, so he only had 1,789 left. I trust the supply lasted him the rest of that day, but I can't be certain.

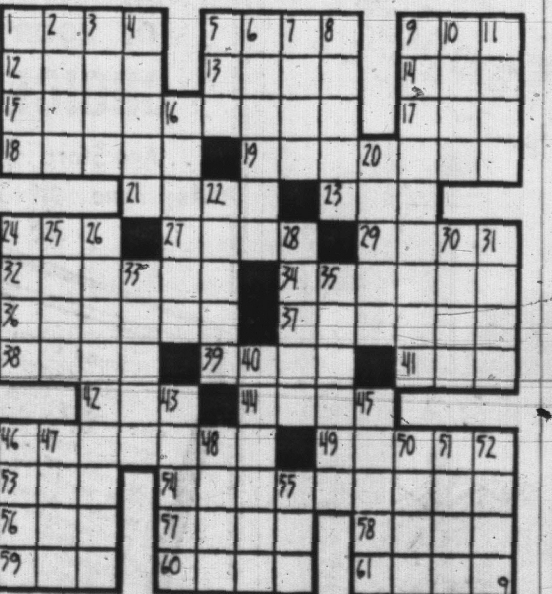

"Bob Cummings eats pills for lunch, too," I said. "Bob Cummings must eat a hundred of these a day and he's a ball of fire!" Eddie Albert was running around his hotel room in circles proving that the pills were wonderful and that now he wasn't nervous or upset or at all concerned about anything and especially about the TV show he was going to do in a few hours.

"How do you eat these pills?" I asked. "What pills?" Eddie Albert asked. "Oh, these I have in my hand. Oh yes, Well, I put a fistful in my pocket and I nibble them most of the day. 'I find if I don't use them,' he laughed, rather hollowly, 'that I get into political arguments I take either side or I find fault with the management. I just keep popping them into my mouth all day and . . ."

"Did you ever try 'Tiger's Milk'?" I asked him. "I practically lived on 'Tiger's Milk,'" Eddie sang out the sentence in a manner that practically convinced me he had his own personal tiger. "It's in one of the health food recipe books. I must start back on 'Tiger's Milk' right away."

Before you go out and order yourself a tiger, let me explain that it's a drink made up of various health food ingredients. I doubt if a tiger would drink it, but for human beings and actors, it's quite good.

"What else do you do?" I inquired. "I do a lot of exercises . . . surf-board riding and all that. I happen to be a little tense today. I try to keep the cholesterol from clogging up . . . Eddie explained that doing the Jack Paar TV show tended to tense him up. One night when he was subbing for Jack, he had both Ben Hecht and Sheila Graham on his panel. He figured that by the time they got done assassinating characters, he'd have quite a show. To his astonishment, both of them loved everybody that night. "I was about to leave," Eddie.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—hammers and saws are roaring in San Francisco as the While teenage gangs in New York City are destroying human life and limb with switch-blade knives and bicycle chains, such San Francisco gangs as "The War Lords," "The Sheiks," "The Aces" and "Los Bandidos" are devoting their efforts to constructive work.

In the past two years, more than 300 members of 25 gangs have participated in 103 service projects—from repairing the dilapidated homes of poverty-stricken families to building a bridge on an Indian reservation.

The man behind their actions is Carl V. May, 37-year-old executive secretary of the American Friends Service Committee and creator of the Youth for Service project here.

May, a Quaker, is opposed to the idea that teenage gangs should be smashed out of existence. He argues that "They have as much right to exist as the boy scouts."

NO MAJOR PROBLEM
"There is no major problem here now," he says.

San Francisco's gangs have an inter-club council to maintain a continuing contact with each other on a friendly basis.

"There hasn't been a serious 'rumble' or other sign of gang violence in San Francisco since the council was set up eight months ago," May said.

Now the council is setting up a grievance committee.

"If you try to break the gangs up, you just give them stature and make things worse," May says. "Our point is that if a group can do something constructive, why not recognize it."

MRS. BLINCO ... "a chain of friendship."

AT DUNVEGAN CASTLE

MacLeods Home From Clan Talks

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Members of the world-wide Clan MacLeod—divided by mountains and the waste of seas—were reunited recently in a clan parliament in grey-walled Dunvegan Castle, seat of the MacLeod chieftains on the misty Isle of Skye.

There were the MacLeods, the MacCrimmons, the MacGibbons and other associated families from Canada, the United Kingdom, the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

And among them were four clansmen from Victoria—Mrs. Catherine MacLeod Blinco, Dr. Hector and Mrs. MacLeod and Miss Isabella Robertson.

"It was a memorable experience," said Mrs. MacLeod Blinco, just returned to her hill-top home at 4865 Cherry Tree Bend, opposite Beaver Lake park.

"Part of Dunvegan Castle, where we held our second clan parliament, dates back to the ninth century and the ivy-grown walls are nine feet thick."

WITH THE PAST
"To live in such a place is to feel at one with the past—yet the castle inside has been modernized and is centrally heated throughout."

Hostess to the clansmen was the famous Chief of the Clan, 81-year-old Dame Flora MacLeod, who visited Victoria two years ago and is, as always, a tireless world traveller.

She shares the ancestral home at Dunvegan Castle with her daughter, Mrs. Joan Wolrige-Gordon, and her grandson, John MacLeod, who graduated recently from McGill University with a degree in commerce and starred in the famous Canadian show "My Fur Lady."

A gifted musician—on the pipes and other instruments—he is planning to study at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London.

Dame Flora, too, is a musician.

"She is organist at nearby Duirinish parish church," Mrs. MacLeod Blinco said, "and between entertaining us at the castle she played in church as usual."

"Her wonderful spirit and vitality are an inspiration to the Clan and all the tenants on her large estate regard her with affection. They still pay very low rents—ridiculously low by our standards and not always very strictly collected."

At one of the Clan gatherings, held in the ancient banquet hall at the castle, Dr. George MacLeod offered prayers and said:

"We are encompassed by a great cloud of witnesses."

And Dame Flora in her message to the Clan said:

"I think much about the future. It would be a sad day for us if there were to be a break when I am gone... At my request my daughter, Joan Wolridge Gordon, has presided and was given the fullest cooperation by the delegates."

Dame Flora added that in September she would fly to Australia and New Zealand to establish contacts and confirm friendships with the strong and loyal Clan societies down under."

Said Mrs. MacLeod Blinco: "Dame Flora sees the Clan MacLeod as something far greater than Scotland itself. She honestly believes we can build a chain of friendship around the world that will help to remove the enmities that create wars..."

Between sessions at the castle the clansmen visited famous Scottish landmarks, including the MacCrimmon Memorial Cairn at Borreraig, where an ancient college of piping stood for three centuries.

Already the MacLeods are planning their third parliament, to be held at Dunvegan Castle in 1962.

Private Reactor Built

VERCELLI, Italy (Reuters)—A nuclear research reactor, claimed to be the first in continental Europe entirely built and owned by private enterprise, has begun functioning here. The plant, which has been named Avogadro, was financed by the Fiat automobile firm and the Montecatini Chemicals Company. It will be used by them for research into the applications of nuclear energy to industry.

CITY ASKS FEDERAL AID ON SLUM CLEAN-UP PLAN

City council Thursday passed a formal application for federal government grants towards a slum clearance survey of Victoria.

The one-year survey, expected to concentrate on the area between Government and Store, will cost $25,000. Ottawa's share, if the application is accepted, will cover 75 per cent.

The city will not have to pay any money directly for the survey. To be carried out by the Capital Region Planning Board, the city's share will be written off against its annual grant to the board.

Fisherman Burned in Ship Blast

VANCOUVER—A 32-year-old fisherman was taken from his burning gillnetter in the Fraser River Thursday night after an exploding 30-gallon can of gasoline blew the cabin off the boat.

Almer Thomas suffered badly burned arms, legs and face. He was rescued by the department of fisheries boat Star Rock which saw flames shooting from his boat—The Dora.

PRINCE RUPERT—A $880,000 waterworks bylaw was narrowly defeated in a vote here Thursday, but property owners, in a second ballot, favored a new city hall.

Voters approved by a 74.3 majority a $300,000 bylaw for the purchase of the present federal building for conversion into a new city hall.

FIRE HITS BLOCK

VANCOUVER—Six persons were evacuated early today when fire swept a three-story wooden apartment building on westend Haro Street.

One man, Ernest Schruhaer, was trapped on a fire escape and was rescued by firemen. He was treated for exposure to smoke.

Flames leaped high in the air as an estimated 1,000 persons watched firemen battle the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control.

Extent of the damage was not known. But the flames destroyed the top floor and much of the second floor.

EMERGENCY LANDING

QUESNEL—A United States Air Force jet aircraft made a rough emergency landing Thursday night here and both men aboard suffered minor injuries.

The plane circled the city before making its landing in darkness at the department of transport runway. It suffered undercarriage damage and two blown tires as it screeched to a stop within 200 feet of the end of the strip after touching down about half way along.

"LOOK BACK IN ANGER" By John Osborne

Jimmy Porter..... Tony Nicholson

Colonel Redfern..... Evan Jones

Author never spoke more baldly to audience than Britain's angry young man, John Osborne has through chief protagonist Jimmy Porter in this scathing drama about social distinctions in present-day England.

Actually, on reflection, the play says nothing that has not been said before and certainly nothing of any great moment; its chief distinction is that it speaks without cliches, robustly and in the broadest common idiom.

The writing is facile, the lines witty at times frequently rising to brilliance. Such lines require an equally facile and brilliant delivery to be effective, and this, regrettably, they did not receive from a first-night performance at the Art Gallery, Thursday.

A jittery Intimate Stage cast brought admirable sincerity to their playing but failed to establish an adequate tempo or to distinguish between the realism of the play and naturalism in performance.

Too many long pauses, too much murmuring and lack of projection, destroyed the temper of the piece. Tony Nicholson, in the most demanding and strenuous role he has yet played, came closest to striking the proper level.

John Gilliland in the dumb-devoted role of the friend was quite consistently effective.

SIU WARNED NOT TO MAKE RED CHARGES

OTTAWA (CP) — The Seafarers' International Union was cautioned today to go easy on allegations of communism against west coast members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers.

Chairman C. Rhodes Smith of the Canada Labor Relations Board warned that the Seafarers won't get far with such scattergun charges unless the union can put some substance behind them.

The Seafarers, who Thursday made much of allegations of communism against a couple of Vancouver members of the brotherhood's marine section in a case before the board, promptly dropped the subject today.

New York Grets Dutch Princess

NEW YORK (UPI) — Princess Beatrix of The Netherlands arrived here today for an 11-day visit that will include that set for Russian Prime Minister Nikita Khrushchev in tickertape and tinsel.

The 21-year-old future Queen of The Netherlands, heiress to the House of Orange which ruled New York 300 years ago, received a royal welcome in contrast to the bare formalities planned for Khrushchev by his proper but unenthusiastic host, Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

WILL THE NEW EVERSHARP FOUNTAIN-BALL PEN MAKE YOU ANY SMARTER IN SCHOOL?

No, it won't. It will only prove you were smart to buy one in the first place. This new Eversharp pen won't necessarily improve your grades. If you flunked science without it, you'll probably flunk science with it. What this new ball point WILL do however, is make your writing more legible. You'll write better and faster, thicker and richer—and with less effort and more character. Teachers like to read words written with an Eversharp. Be kind to teachers. If you're going back to school soon, have yourself a ball point—an Eversharp Fountain-Ball point. It costs only $1.29.

Eversharp's Fountain-Ball is honeycombed with millions of tiny ink channels that feed ink all around the ball. The flow of ink is always constant, never thin, never clogs. That's why an Eversharp is so much better than ordinary ball point pens.

HEART WITH HOLE ON WRONG SIDE TOO

LONDON (AP)—Surgeons reported today a successful operation on a 13-year-old girl whose heart not only had a hole in it but was on the wrong side of her chest.

A communique from London's Hammersmith Hospital said Pamela Weller was feeling fine after surgery to stitch up the hole. During the operation her heart was stopped for 56 minutes while her circulation was maintained artificially.

The communique also said that not only is Pamela's heart on the right side, instead of the left, but her liver and stomach are in the wrong place, too.

LAST OF SERIES

Mr. K. May Find Eagle Can Claw

Nikita Khrushchev has made it clear he is anxious to get a first hand look at the United States. In this last of a series back-grounding Khrushchev's visit, Associated Press news analyst William L. Ryan tells of the distorted opinion the Kremlin boss has of the American way of life.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Nikita Khrushchev wants to get a close look at the American eagle. Perhaps he wants to know how long it will be before—by his reckoning—he can step on the eagle's tail.

The Soviet premier made this ambition plain long after he began, about two years ago, to hint his way into an invitation to visit the United States. Communism's star traveling salesman wants an idea of just what the resistance might be to his line in a hemisphere which has been a mystery to him all his life.

At a reception last spring, Khrushchev lumbered from guest to guest, exploding verbal firecrackers with each step. The round, 220-pound Russian bore down on the American ambassador, Llewellyn Thompson. Jabbing a stubby finger into Thompson's chest, he gave him a pithy lecture.

"There are some ambassadors here," said the grinning five-foot-five Communist boss, "who would like to spit on Communism. But don't let's see who can spit the farthest, like camels in a cage. Let's compete. We have to maintain minimum sanitary conditions. When we win this competition, we'll re-educate you."

Look out, Mr. Thompson! We'll step on your tail!

Khrushchev insists also he is not interested in exporting revolution. But he adds that "if there is a revolution, we will cheer it along and help it wherever possible."

Such pronouncements about his own ideas of peaceful co-

TOKYO (AP)—Asian Communists are talking peace through "friendly negotiations" on two fronts—the India-China border and in Laos, but are giving no indication of a readiness to make concessions.

Red China's parliamentary standing committee was called suddenly into session today to discuss the growing dispute with India along the Tibetan border.

Premier Chou En-lai told the committee that Sino-Indian border question should be settled peacefully and not by force.

Chou said the status quo should be maintained and not altered by force or unilateral action. He added that some disputes could be solved locally, at least temporarily, to preserve Sino-Indian friendship.

This came after the Laotian rebels announced Wednesday that they were ready to negotiate "if the Royal Laotian government . . . still desires a peaceful settlement."

A United Nations fact-finding mission is leaving New York for Laos Saturday night in answer to an appeal for help. There was speculation here that the Communist peace gestures might be at the urging of Moscow to create a more relaxed international atmosphere for Premier Khrushchev's trip to the United States next Tuesday for talks with President Eisenhower.

Meanwhile India's Prime Minister Nehru told a press conference in New Delhi today that he doesn't think there is any likelihood of the border troubles leading to a war.

"I don't believe there has been any development which could lead to a conflict—even a small one," he said.

NEVER AGAIN, SAYS THEIR CHIEF

Miss Canada's Mounties 'Too Hot'

OTTAWA (CP)—The two members of the RCMP accompanying Miss Canada at the Atlantic City beauty pageant will remain to the end of the contest Saturday night, a spokesman for the force said today.

But it was expected that this would be the first and last time the RCMP steps into the international whirl of beauty queens. A corporal and constable were assigned by the RCMP to act as bodyguards for Canada's entry in the Miss America contest, Rosemary Keenan of Fredericton. They made a big impression dressed in their red tunics, riding boots and stetsons.

But in some parts of the country, there's been criticism of the force for sending them. Commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac said in a television interview in Toronto Thursday night he accepted responsibility for the decision to send the mounties, but had not anticipated there would be much publicity in Canada about it.

The mounties, Cpl. J. H. Turcotte, 42, and Constable Merle O. Adamson, 27, went to Atlantic City mounted on the seats of a trusty convertible.

They marched in the pageant parade, watched the Civil Service Probe Likely, But PM Silent

OTTAWA (CP)—A royal commission inquiry into government operation appears to be in the offing but Prime Minister Diefenbaker today declined to go into detail on the question.

MYSTERIOUS CANADIAN AIDS TORIES

LONDON (CP)—Fleet Street buzzed today with speculation over a $10,000 donation from an unidentified Canadian to Britain's Conservative party.

Sir Beverley Baxter, Toronto-born Conservative member of Parliament, received the donation in the mail this morning and handed it to Conservative party chairman Lord Hailsham.

Baxter said Hailsham received it with "modified rapture."

The MP declined to identify the donor. He described him as a wealthy Canadian who greatly admires the British way of life.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and External Affairs Minister Richard Casey of Australia today held a wide-ranging talk on international affairs.

Citizens File Suit To Block Mr. K. Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A group of U.S. citizens filed suit in federal court here today to block the U.S. visit of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The suit listed the names of 22 American citizens whom, it charged, Khrushchev caused to be murdered or illegally imprisoned.

Retired army Capt. Eugene R. Guild of Glenwood Springs, Colo., signed the suit, which was mailed to the court here in a letter on the stationery of the "fighting homefolks of fighting men."

PAUL DOUGLAS

Rescue Squad Too Late, Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor Paul Douglas died today of a heart seizure at his home. His actress-wife, Jan Sterling, was at his side.

Douglas, 52, an outspoken veteran, of more than 20 movies and scores of television dramas, had no previous record of heart disease, according to Dr. Lee Siegel.

Firemen were called to Douglas' Hollywood Hills home at 8:30 a.m., but arrived too late to apply emergency measures.

Miss Sterling said her husband collapsed shortly after arising from bed, complaining of pains in his chest.

"It's better this way," the blonde star sobbed. "He would not have wanted to linger long in a sick bed."

She said Douglas had requested the cornea of his eyes be given to the Eye Foundation, and that other parts of his body should be used for medical research.

TWIN ISLES CONFERENCE OPENS

United States treatment of Canada. If it seemed to mistreat such a neighbor, no overseas nation would ever trust it again.

Twenty-two leading businessmen, politicians, industrialists and educationists are attending a two-country meeting at a lodge here under the sponsorship of G. Max Bell, president of F. P. Publications Limited and a leading figure in the Alberta oil industry.

The program opened today on a series of panel discussions and papers on Canadian-U.S. relations. Scheduled to speak later was Liberal leader Pearson.

Discussing the psychology of the two nations, and their actions and reactions toward one another, Mr. Hutchison said Americans must also consider they have deposited in Canada their largest foreign investment.

"The Canadian market is their largest foreign market where goods are paid for in hard money. And in a strategic sense, Canada is the most important piece of real estate in the world to the U.S."

"Some of its particular resources are absolutely essential to American defence. Without them, as proved in the last world war, the United States simply cannot fight any major war."

Operators Still Silent

Victoria district IWA members today voted 92.5 per cent in favor of settling the coast lumber strike, according to the Deutsch formula.

At Duncan, Local 1-80 with sub-locals at nine other Island centres, reported 80 per cent voted to go back to work.

It was the timber operators' move at press time—but no statement was forthcoming from Forest Industrial Relations at Vancouver, bargaining agency for the industry.

Both sides in the dispute which had idled 26,600 IWA members for 67 days have studied the recommendations of Dr. John Deutsch, government-appointed mediator.

An overwhelming majority of strikers now have agreed to accept his recommendation of a 20-cent wage increase over two years.

FOOD SHIPPED

Some operators are so confident that the F.I.R. group will also accede to the Deutsch recommendations that food was shipped in some northern logging camps.

It was hoped skeleton crews could begin work Monday and that Wednesday would see the industry humming once more.

Secret ballots cast in Vancouver resulted in a 60.4 per cent for accepting the Deutsch report and in New Westminster the vote was 54 per cent in favor. Both votes were cast despite opposition by some local officials to "giving in."

The Island vote was counted just before noon today.

Officials who were present as loggers and mill workers filed into union headquarters to vote, said the outcome was never in doubt.

TWO-THIRDS

At Victoria, two-thirds of the district membership cast votes, a total of 897 ballots, according to local president Jack Mackenzie.

Local 1-80 secretary Ed Linder at Duncan said all Island sub-locals had similar large turnouts for the voting at Youbou, Lake Cowichan, Ladysmith, Caycuse Beach, Duncan, Chemainus, Harris Creek and Nanaimo.

Quebec Premier Sworn In

QUEBEC (CP)—Hon. Paul Sauve today was sworn in as premier of Quebec after choosing a 20-member cabinet, largely unchanged from that which served under the late Premier Maurice Duplessis.

Maurice Bellemare, 47, Union Nationale member for Champlain, was added to the cabinet as a minister without portfolio. Mr. Bellemare has been chief party whip.

Hon. Antoine Rivard, 60, was given the attorney-general's portfolio which Mr. Duplessis had held personally during his long term of office.

Premier Sauve also retained for the time being the youth and welfare portfolio which he held before Mr. Duplessis' death.

POST MAY GO

There were indications that the post of solicitor-general which Mr. Rivard held in addition to the transport department portfolio would disappear in the new cabinet.

Premier Sauve presented the list of cabinet ministers to Lieutenant-Governor Onesime Gagnon. Soon after he and members of the cabinet took the oath of allegiance and the oath of secrecy.

Mr. Sauve, at 52 the senior member of the Quebec legislature in years of service, was named premier Thursday night a few hours after Mr. Duplessis had been buried in his native Trois Rivières. (See list of cabinet ministers on page 2.)

Forced to Lie in Puddles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Icelandic ambassador protested today that American guards at Keflavik Airport forced two

Iceland officials to lie in puddles of water for 10 minutes and threatened to shoot them if they opened their mouths. Ambassador Thor Thors delivered the protest to Foy Kohler, the acting assistant state secretary for European affairs. In a dispatch from Reykjavik, the New York Times said today the incident had caused an upsurge of anti-American feeling in Iceland.

Thors told reporters the account of the incident given by the Times was correct.

The Times said the Icelanders, one in the uniform of the Icelandic airport service, were escorting two German pilots to a hangar where their aircraft was under repair last Saturday night.

The story quoted the American command as saying the area is restricted at night though open in the daytime. It said the Icelanders said there was no indication it was a closed area.

POLITICAL career is being seriously considered by crooner Rudy Vallee, idol of the 1930s. He says he may run for mayor of Los Angeles. There's one snag, though—current mayor Norris Poulson is one of his fraternity brothers.

Phil Lee's Two for the Show

GUN HILL" (Capitol)—Here is a western so excellent that it may very well turn out to be the finest of 1959. Only "Rio Bravo" so far can be mentioned in the same breath.

James Poe's adaptation of Les Crutchfield's story makes the Paramount effort both adult and virile. The acting by principals Kirk Douglas, Anthony Quinn, Carolyn Jones and Earl Holliman is distinguished as is the plot that starts off with rape and accidental murder and ends without bowing to the usual happy ending, seemingly the trademark of the cliché western.

In addition to the above "The Last Train From Gun Hill" is marked by superb color photography, especially in the opening scenes that are as real as though one were watching an event through a window. As usual Douglas and Quinn acquit themselves in professional fashion. But it is young Holliman and Miss Jones who catch the eye. It is their characterization that give the film its difference, its rhyme and reason.

VICTORIA, B.C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1959

MONTE ROBERTS

From far-off Edmonton (in some province or other of the Canadian nation) comes word from Al Markie, a former denizen of Victoria.

Mr. Markie refers to a comment which appeared in this space some time ago, anent a suggestion that the capital of B.C. should be moved from Victoria to Vancouver, to eliminate the need for protests against publications which state the capital of B.C. is at Vancouver.

Writes Mr. Markie: "There may be some merit in suggesting the capital be moved, but it would leave a ghastly open spot at the foot of Government Street, good only for a gas station, cricket pitch, tearoom, or a square for the public hanging of those deserving to be publicly hanged."

"What I wish to point out is, you may feel a little better in the knowledge you are not the only city being pushed around by foreign (i.e., Yankee) publications."

"Argosy" magazine, in its SPECIAL CANADIAN SECTION, has misplaced Edmonton. Argosy has, without consulting any of the appropriate officials, placed Edmonton in B.C.

"Woe to B.C. Although personally I feel that Edmonton in B.C.—anyplace at all in B.C.—would make more sense than Edmonton in Alberta."

"Besides, it would get me closer to home."

"Best to those lucky enough to be basking in that infernal sun."

"I must put on my muk-luks and go now."

"We had a nice summer. It was on Thursday, July 9."

My thanks to Mr. Markie for his kindly information. After all, we caught Social Credit from Alberta, why not Edmonton, too?

I am sure all the constituents will join me in wishing Mr. Markie the best of muk-luck.

JAPANESE APPEALS TO TIMES READERS

'I See Going to Canada In Dream...Hoping Daily'

A remarkable letter written by a 25-year-old Japanese living in Tokyo reached The Victoria Daily Times today.

Masao Ono wants to come to Canada to study the language, to learn our customs and habits and to explore "your lovely lakes and woodlands."

In a long and neatly-scripted letter addressed to "all of readers of The Victoria Daily Times," he expresses himself forcefully in quaint but eloquent English.

"Recently," he writes, "I see going to Canada in a dream. I hope every day from the bottom of my heart, my desire materializes."

'Await Letters' "I heartily await letters from you and your readers who are kind to understand my appeal."

Masao Ono, born May 16, 1934, enclosed a portrait and, after giving a brief account of his scholastic career, added: "No awards received. No punishment inflicted."

He says he attended the Tokyo Metropolitan Hiroo High School, the Tokyo Shashin College and in 1957 entered the Riken Optical Industries Ltd., in Tokyo.

His letter follows:

City Water Rates Due To Spiral

Mt. Tolmie Reservoir First of Big Projects

An imminent increase of $1.50 in annual water bills, with even larger boosts expected hard on its heels, faces Greater Victoria water consumers.

Approved today by Greater Victoria Water Board of the first of three major projects will see construction of a $750,000 reservoir on Mount Tolmie started this year.

It will add 1.3 cents to the present 10-cent rate for 1,000 gallons. Initial financing of the 5 1/2-mile Japan Gulch tunnel project probably will begin next year, raising the 1,000-gallon cost to 14 cents.

DOUBLED By 1963, today's rate will be doubled to 20 cents per 1,000 gallons, to finance the total $4,000,000 cost of the tunnel, water commissioner Ronald Upward predicted.

That will add about $12 to the annual bill of the average consumer.

Construction of the Mount Tolmie reservoir will head off a further increase by delaying for 10 years the need for a fourth pipeline to the area.

That pipeline, expected to cost $6,000,000, will raise the system's capacity to serve a population of 250,000.

PAID OFF By the time it is needed, the board will have paid off its debt to the city which accounts for six cents of the present 10-cent rate.

Lifting of the debt will free that money for financing the pipeline without a further increase.

Board was told that the Mount Tolmie reservoir would enable Saanich to solve its water pressure problem in the Ten Mile Point area and remove the possibility of water rationing in Oak Bay. It also will increase the Hillside area's pressure slightly.

BIG SAVING Reeve George Chatterton pointed out that by delaying the need for the new pipeline, construction of the reservoir would save the board about $2,000,000 in interest rates over the next decade.

Mr. Upward backed his recommendation for construction of the reservoir by noting it would increase water supply and stabilize pressures and provide an emergency source of water that was proof against radiation fallout.

The concrete reservoir will be covered.

The opposing petition, circulated by a group headed by beer parlor manager William Hollick, was signed by 460 persons in the area.

"It is a very interesting situation," observed Mr. Bradfield. "Apparently some citizens can't make up their minds on what they want."

He said the government's reason for rejection was that a number of persons signed both pro and anti-referendum petitions.

The provincial government has turned down a request for a referendum in View Royal this year to decide whether it will be incorporated as a village.

A. W. Bradfield who led a petition that gathered more than 700 names requesting the referendum, today said his group plans "to go down and talk to the department" of municipal affairs before mapping further moves.

He said the government's reason for rejection was that a number of persons signed both pro and anti-referendum petitions.

LAOS BATTLE FIZZLES AS UN TEAM AWAITED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Laotian fighting was reported at a complete standstill today, and the impending arrival of United Nations observers was advanced as a possible cause.

Quebec Premier Sworn In

QUEBEC (CP) — Hon. Paul Sauve today was sworn in as premier of Quebec after choosing a 20-member cabinet, largely unchanged from that which served under the late Premier Maurice Duplessis.

Maurice Bellemare, 47, Union Nationale member for Champlain, was added to the cabinet as a minister without portfolio. Mr. Bellemare has been chief party whip.

Hon. Antoine Rivard, 60, was given the attorney-general's portfolio which Mr. Duplessis had held personally during his long term of office.

Premier Sauve also retained for the time being the youth and welfare portfolio which he held before Mr. Duplessis' death.

There were indications that the post of solicitor-general which Mr. Rivard held in addition to the transport department portfolio would disappear in the new cabinet.

Premier Sauve presented the list of cabinet ministers to Lieutenant-Governor Onesime Gagnon. Soon after he and members of the cabinet took the oath of allegiance and the oath of secrecy.

Mr. Sauve, at 52 the senior member of the Quebec legislature in years of service, was named premier Thursday night a few hours after Mr. Duplessis had been buried in his native Trois Rivières.

Red China 'Talks Peace' On India, Laos

TOKYO (AP) — Asian Communists are talking peace through "friendly negotiations" on two fronts—the India-China border and in Laos, but are giving no indication of a readiness to make concessions.

Red China's parliamentary standing committee was called suddenly into session today to discuss the growing dispute with India along the Tibetan border.

Premier Chou En-lai told the committee that Sino-Indian border question should be settled peacefully and not by force.

Chou said the status quo should be maintained and not altered by force or unilateral action. He added that some disputes could be solved locally, at least temporarily, to preserve Sino-Indian friendship.

This came after the Laotian rebels announced Wednesday that they were ready to negotiate "if the Royal Laotian government" still desires a peaceful settlement.

IWA VOTES 73% TO END STRIKE

What Is It? . . .

. . . For Answer See Page 17

Await Statement From Operators

VANCOUVER (CP) — Joe Morris, district president of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA) said today union members have voted to end their 67-day strike on the B.C. coast.

He said in a statement 73 per cent of the 14,000 members who voted this week approved a policy committee recommendation to accept the report of mediator Dr. John Deutsch.

There are about 27,000 woodworkers on strike. Mr. Morris said no meetings are scheduled with Forest Industrial Relations, employer representative. F.I.R. said earlier it would have a statement on the Deutsch report later today.

Victoria district IWA members today voted 92.5 per cent in favor of settling the coast lumber strike according to the Deutsch formula.

At Duncan, Local 1-80 with sub-locals at nine other Island centres, reported 80 per cent voted to go back to work.

Both sides in the dispute which had idled 26,600 IWA members for 67 days have studied the recommendations of Dr. John Deutsch, government-appointed mediator.

An overwhelming majority of strikers now have agreed to accept his recommendation of a 20-cent wage increase over two years.

Some operators are so confident that the F.I.R. group will also accede to the Deutsch recommendations that food was shipped to some northern logging camps.

It was hoped skeleton crews could begin work Monday and that Wednesday would see the industry humming once more.

Secret ballots cast in Vancouver resulted in a 60.4 per cent vote to accept the Deutsch report and in New Westminster the vote was 54 per cent in favor. Both votes were cast despite opposition by some local officials to "giving in."

The Island vote was counted just before noon today. Officials who were present as loggers and mill workers filed into union headquarters to vote said the outcome was never in doubt.

At Victoria, two-thirds of the district membership cast votes, a total of 897 ballots, according to local president Jack Mackenzie.

Local 1-80 secretary Ed Linder at Duncan said all Island sub-locals had similar large turnouts for the voting at Youbou, Lake Cowichan, Ladysmith, Cayce Beach, Duncan, Chemainus, Harris Creek and Nanaimo.

Rescue Squad Too Late, Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Paul Douglas died today of a heart seizure at his home. His actress-wife, Jan Sterling, was at his side.

Douglas, 52, an outspoken veteran of more than 20 movies and scores of television dramas, had no previous record of heart disease, according to Dr. Lee Siegel.

Firemen were called to Douglas' Hollywood Hills home at 8:30 a.m., but arrived too late to apply emergency measures.

Miss Sterling said her husband collapsed shortly after arising from bed, complaining of pains in his chest.

"It's better this way," the blonde star sobbed. "He would not have wanted to linger long in a sick bed."

She said Douglas had requested the cornea of his eyes be given to the Eye Foundation, and that other parts of his body should be used for medical research.

Troops on Alert

MANILA (UPI) — A crack Philippines "emergency force" is on combat alert and ready to rush to Laos "on a moment's notice," a defence department spokesman disclosed today.

NEVER AGAIN, SAYS THEIR CHIEF

Miss Canada's Mounties 'Too Hot'

OTTAWA (CP) — The two members of the RCMP accompanying Miss Canada at the Atlantic City beauty pageant will remain to the end of the contest Saturday night, a spokesman for the force said today.

But it was expected that this would be the first and last time the RCMP steps into the international whirl of beauty queens.

A corporal and constable were assigned by the RCMP to act as bodyguards for Canada's entry in the Miss America contest of Frederickton. They made a big impression dressed in their red tunics, riding boots and stetsons.

But in some parts of the country, there's been criticism of the force for sending them. Commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac said in a television interview in Toronto Thursday night he accepted responsibility for the decision to send the mounties, but had not anticipated there would be much publicity in Canada about it.

The mounties, Cpl. J. H. Turcotte, 42, and Constable Merle O. Adamson, 27, went to Atlantic City mounted on the seats of a trusty convertible.

They marched in the pageant parade, watched the first night of preliminary competition Wednesday night and received the keys to the city Thursday morning.

"It's quite a fabulous thing," said the distinguished-looking, soft-spoken Turcotte, who is married and the father of three. "I'm sure the Canadian people would be happy at the 'welcome accorded to Miss Canada and ourselves.'"

Miss Illinois, 21-year-old Suzanne Ingeborg Johnson of Chicago, sang 'Hello Young Lovers' to win the preliminary talent competition Thursday.

Miss-New York State, Bonnie Jo Marquis, 19, an Ithaca College sophomore, took the swim suit award.

Both of them get $1,000 scholarships. They now await Saturday night's finals.

Miss Canada is not out of the running although she has not been among the announced preliminary winners.

In fact her sponsor, F. Radcliffe Weaver, of Hamilton, Ont., executive director of the Miss Canada pageant, says "I think she has a good chance."

'FULLY RECOVERED' AFTER YEAR'S LAYOFF

Cowichan Fair on Comeback Trail

Cowichan Exhibition was launched officially today by Trade and Industry Minister Robert W. Bonner at a ceremony before an enthusiastic crowd in Cowichan Curling Club arena.

Claimed by officials as "fully recovered" from its one-year layoff, forced last year when there was no accommodation available, its offering a widely varied program at its new eight-acre grounds on James Street.

The fair actually got underway at 9 a.m. today with the judging of dairy and beef cattle, and continued again immediately following the short ceremony.

Western gymkhana in the horse ring at the new grounds beside the curling rink is scheduled for 6 p.m., and a square dance exhibition is set for 8 p.m. At 9 p.m. Duncan firemen will stage a display.

HORSE SHOW

Saturday program calls for the light horse show to start at 10:30 a.m. and continue all day, and 4-H Club demonstrations to begin at 1 p.m.

Sheepdog trials on the grounds will start at 1:30, and there will be a display of Clydesdale horses at 3 p.m.

Fair management is hopeful that the Victoria Chinese community will stage a dragon dance at 4 p.m., and at 6 p.m. donated exhibits in the arena will be auctioned.

Cecil West, in charge of entertainment for the fair, will superintend the rides for youngsters, midway games, Indian salmon barbecue, shows by various ethnic groups, and other items proceeding in conjunction with the main program.

100 YOUNGSTERS

Ken Jameson, district agriculturist, said more than 100 4-H Club youngsters are exhibiting and taking part in the demonstrations.

Work on the fair started a year ago, but the grounds started to hum with activity Friday night with the arrival of cattle herds from Saanich, Nanos Bay, Cowichan Station and Westholme.

Stock handlers from the farms took buckets of soapy water and scrub brushes to their prize stock. After careful washing and rinsing they were wrapped in blankets and bedded down amid clean wood shavings in the four new stock barns on the grounds.

The curling rink remained lighted throughout the night as exhibitors, including artists, gardeners, craftsmen and cooks, set up their entries.

PARADE

An extra event will be a parade by the Canadian Scottish regimental pipe band from Victoria before an "open house" at the armories from 7 to 11 p.m., with officers and men of "A" Coy., and their cadet corps, as hosts.

Object of the event, being held in conjunction with the exhibition, is to show the general public the type of work and training carried out by the militia and cadets and stimulate interest in both groups.

There will be training displays, a show of arms and equipment, a performance by the pipe band and two full-length films. A door prize, a copy of the regimental history "Ready for the Fray," will also be given away. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the open house.

COURTENAY—A 95-pound skate measuring close to six feet from nose to tail was caught near here this week by James Zalinko, Comox RCAF Station.

He was trolling at Kitty Coleman Beach with 100 feet of line when he hooked the bat-like fish. After a fight, he was able to drag it ashore.

FAKE ROBBERY CHARGE

Seattle Man To Stand Trial

NANAIMO—A Seattle man charged with sparking a police investigation—while knowing no offence had taken place—was committed for trial following a preliminary hearing Thursday.

Johannes Lindal Gudmundson elected for trial by judge and jury. Bail of $1,000 was continued.

It is alleged Gudmundson gave police false information when he reported having been robbed of $76 June 4 by three youths on Esplanade Street here.

TAKEN FOR RIDE

At that time he told police he had met three youths in a restaurant, and they offered to take him around the city. After driving about for two or three hours, he said, they took his money and forced him from their car.

Gudmundson had made his own way to the police station on foot, and made his report at about 4 a.m.

Chemical Firm Officials See Warehouse Job

NANAIMO (CP)—John Stauffer, vice-president and general manager of the Stauffer Chemical Co., and senior executives of the firm have been in Nanaimo to look over a $250,000 salt cake warehouse now under construction.

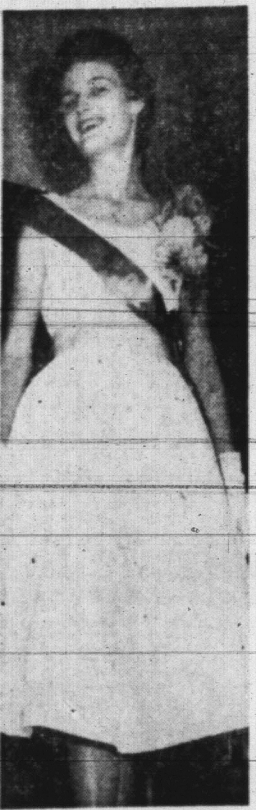

Mr. Stauffer was host to Mayor Pete Maffeo and executives of island pulp mills at a dinner Wednesday night, and Thursday was taken on a tour of Harmac Pulp Mill.

The warehouse will be a storage and distribution centre for salt used in the production of pulp at the four island pulp mills.

The Stauffer party plans to spend some time fishing from a chartered yacht which brought it here.

MUSEUM HEAD

Ex-Sidney Man Named

Tom Wylie, a native of Sidney, V.I., has been appointed director of Vancouver's new maritime museum.

"My job is to create from scratch a museum worthy of this great seaport," he said in Vancouver. "We have a magnificent building to start with, but little else for the nucleus of a maritime collection."

Mr. Wylie lived at Sidney until 1938 and once paddled an 11-foot canoe down the Vancouver Island coast.

After service with the RCAF during the war, he graduated from the University of British Columbia, specializing in anthropology and later took his MA at Toronto University.

From Canada he went to Northern Rhodesia as director of the Rhodes-Livingstone Museum.

He spent another three years in central Africa, gathering ethnological specimens for American museums.

Eighteen months ago he returned to Canada to accept a post as anthropologist for the Saskatchewan government, working on a project for community activities among non-treaty Indians.

HUGE LUMBER INDUSTRY SEEN FOR ALBERTA

EDMONTON (CP)—A railway north from McMurray and Waterways in northeastern Alberta would bring about development of a forest industry able to produce 50,000,000 board feet of lumber a year, the Manning Royal Commission was told Thursday.

Alex J. Hamilton, general manager of Swanson Lumber Company Limited, said the only thing preventing development of a strong lumbering industry in the area north of McMurray is lack of year-round transportation.

The suit listed the names of 22 American citizens whom, it charged, Khrushchev caused
